... OR SHALL WE STAY ON THE BEAM!

VANCOUVER (CP) — Highways Minister Gagliardi forecasts British Columbians will drive through plastic tubes suspended from hillsides by brackets in 25 years.

He says the motorists will be guided through the tunnels by "hooking" onto electronic beams. The motorist would drive by pushing a button when he wanted to change direction.

He made his forecasts in a speech to the Vancouver Transportation Club and an interview later.

"The Buck Rogers era is coming to pass," said the minister who recently forecast that Vancouver and Victoria will some day be connected by a plastic undersea motor tunnel.

He said the innovations will provide accident-proof driving conditions.

Ships and planes would also be guided by electronic beams through all sorts of weather conditions.

"Airports are 50 years behind the times as far as safety goes."

He said aircraft should be able to fly automatically, hooked onto electronic beams that would take them to within 100 yards of a runway before the pilot takes over.

SECOND SESSION POSSIBLE

Speed It Up Or Else—PM

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker suggested today the possibility of a second session of Parliament this year unless the Commons speeds up its work.

B.C. Premier Made Alibi Says Green

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Green accused Premier Bennett of British Columbia today of making an alibi for his government's refusal to aid tubercular refugees.

He said in the Commons external affairs committee that Mr. Bennett for many months did not reply to Prime Minister Diefenbaker's letter to all premiers asking provincial co-operation in Canadian acceptance of 100 tubercular refugees and their families from Europe.

"He did nothing to help tubercular refugees," Mr. Green said.

The minister said he had made a speech in Vancouver covering this point. Then Mr. Bennett had written to Mr. Diefenbaker suggesting a Dominion-provincial conference on refugees.

"This was merely an alibi," Mr. Green said, for B.C. taking no part whatever in the scheme. Mr. Bennett hadn't even bothered to reply to the original letter.

8 Firemen Injured In Blaze

PENTICTON (CP)—Eight firemen needed hospital treatment today after battling a stubborn oil and chemical fire that demolished most of the Oliver Chemical Co. plant.

The firemen suffered injuries ranging from a sulphur burn in the eye to suspected poisoning by arsenic fumes.

Wells Oliver, general manager of the company owned by Mayor Charles Oliver, estimated the damages in the Thursday night fire at $25,000.

The 28 volunteer firemen were hampered by choking fumes thrown up by 40 tons of sulphur burning in an inaccessible spot.

Hunters Killed
EAR FALLS, Ont. (CP)—The RCAF reported today that two missing hunters had been found dead in the wreckage of their plane.

New U.S. Radio 'Planet' Gets Clear, Heads for Sun

Orbit Between Earth, Venus

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States launched a new space probe toward an orbit around the sun between the paths of earth and Venus today. Three hours later scientists reported success.

FINAL STAGE TRIGGERED IN ENGLAND

MANCHESTER, England (UPI)—Scientists at the Jodrell Bank radio telescope said today the new U.S. space rocket is "on course toward the sun."

Professor A. C. B. Lovell, director of the station, said a signal from Jodrell Bank had released the third stage of the carrier rocket and later turned off the satellite's radio transmitter to "rest it."

Lovell said this was how the last stage of the rocket was released: a button was pushed here, sending a signal through space which set off an electric current, which melted a bolt, which released a powerful spring, which propelled the 90-pound space vehicle into an independent course.

It was the first time the British telescope, the world's biggest, has been used to trigger-off release mechanism in a space probe.

The beachball-sized package of instruments was launched at 8 a.m. (5 a.m. PST) from the missile test centre at Cape Canaveral, and propelled by the 165,000-pound thrust of a three-stage Thor Able rocket.

After evaluation of early data radioed back from the 26-inch instrument packed sphere, scientists of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington said it had achieved sufficient velocity.

This meant the new "planet" had been able to escape the earth's gravitational pull and had entered an orbit that will take it 74,700,000 miles from the sun at its nearest approach.

WEIGHS 90 POUNDS

The 90-pound probe, called Pioneer V, is designed to explore space between Venus and the earth and to test the feasibility of communicating with future manned and unmanned space vehicles at distances up to 50,000,000 miles.

NASA officials announced shortly after 11 a.m. that the probe had been freed from its carrier rocket at a velocity of 24,869 miles an hour, and that this exceeded by 575 miles an hour the speed necessary to place the space messenger in orbit around the sun. It was within 150 miles an hour of the planned velocity.

They said the pathway of the space probe would take it 18,000,000 miles closer to the CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Dr. A. L. Jones, director of the tracking station at the Sohio Research Laboratory near here said signals from the U.S. sun satellite were picked up "loud and clear" this morning by the station.

"By noon, I expect the satellite will be more than 50,000 miles out from earth," he said.

sun than the orbit of Venus, and that it would reach its closest approach to the sun in its first swing around the sun about five months from today.

ONLY 10 MINUTES

The plan had been to put the probe within 67,000,000 miles of the sun at its nearest approach.

Announcement that all three stages of the rocket had fired came only 10 minutes after launching.

The 90-foot Thor-Able rose smoothly from its pad.

After about 40 seconds it arched high in the sky and darted in and out of several low-hanging clouds as it streaked toward the southeast.

Cape observers caught a final glimpse of the brilliant exhaust flame 70 seconds after launching.

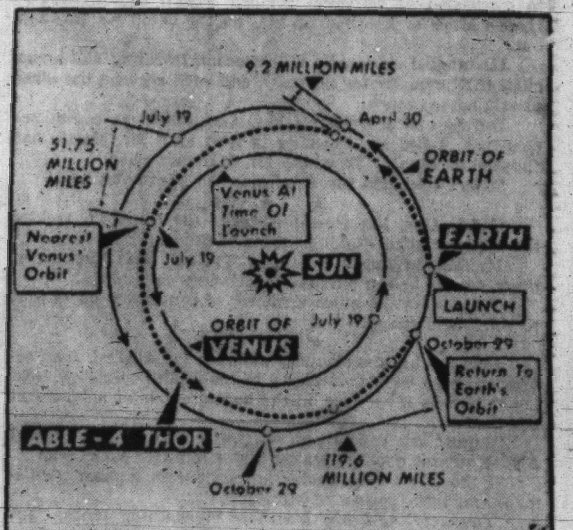

The launching was scheduled for Thursday but was postponed 24 hours because of fueling difficulties. The count proceeded perfectly today and the rocket lifted off right on schedule.

VAST RANGE

The instruments aboard were designed to relay findings back to earth through a powerful radio transmitter capable of sending signals from 50,000,000 miles in space.

This is more than 100 times the range of any previous space messenger—American or Russian—and could pave the way for future probes.

EAST COAST SNOWED IN

Boats Missing In Big Storm

HALIFAX (CP)—Two small Nova Scotia fishing boats with men aboard were missing in the Atlantic today as the Maritimes dug out from a paralyzing wind and snowstorm.

500 FAMILIES MAROONED IN CAROLINA

CHICAGO (AP)—More snow and ice storms swept across sections of the midwest and southern United States today, hitting areas still staggering from crippling violent weather earlier this week.

In the snowbound mountain regions of northwest North Carolina the army, the national guard and the Red Cross joined forces to bring relief to more than 500 marooned families.

Snow depths were generally about three feet, with drifts up to 35 feet, in four counties hit hard by earlier storms.

More snow was in sight. Helicopters were to search out snowbound families, seek to determine their needs and then drop supplies by parachute. The Red Cross set up emergency headquarters.

SOME SNOW

The weather office here forecast more snow and winds up to 40 miles an hour for main land Nova Scotia.

Main highways between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick were still blocked today. Drifts could be tackled only with the largest equipment.

Newfoundland suffered its second major weather assault in a week. Last weekend up to 14 inches of snow fell across central Newfoundland and between eight and 10 inches were added Thursday. Trains, planes and buses were delayed and highway traffic was at a standstill in many areas.

FINCH'S LONG WAIT NOW IN SEVENTH DAY

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Waiting, waiting, waiting—the finale theme of the Finch murder trial—went into a seventh day today with the jury still deliberating the fate of Dr. E. Bernard Finch and his mistress.

The halting surgeon and his now plump paramour, Carole Tregoff, are doing their waiting together and under guard in a small anteroom in the new courthouse.

PRINCESS 'EXCUSED DUTY'

9-Week Honeymoon

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret today cleared her social calendar for a nine-week honeymoon.

She cancelled all engagements for 63 days after her marriage May 6 to Antony Armstrong-Jones.

Chopped off Margaret's list were such "Auntie" dates as an engagement to Prince Philip.

LONDON (UPI)—Scotland Yard today pointed the finger at a race track.

Buckingham Palace kept traditional silence about honeymoon travel plans but speculation centred on the West Indies or North America.

"She is known to be fond of the (West Indies) islands and she still has the wardrobe made for her tour there two years ago," the Daily Mail said.

LONDON READY FOR ANYTHING

LONDON (Reuters)—Hundreds of Britons from the lord of the manors to the working class are making plans for Princess Margaret's wedding to Antony Armstrong-Jones May 6.

Travel agents are swamped with reservations forwarded from the United States, the Commonwealth countries and most other parts of the world. They forecast the nuptials will draw even larger crowds to London than the Queen's coronation.

Juvenile Crime Shows Big Jump

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP reports a rising crime rate in Canada, especially in offences by juveniles, narcotic traffickers and the radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect in British Columbia.

At the same time the force's annual report tabled in the Commons by Justice Minister Fulton for the year ended last March 31 says the RCMP continues to face a shortage of manpower.

"The force has kept abreast of this rising crime index by advanced training of personnel, by modern methods of crime detection and prevention and by the adoption of new techniques designed to combat the criminal element," the report says.

Strength of the force stood at 7,332 last March 31, including 1,008 non-uniformed civil servants. This was an increase of 31 in the year, including a gain of 271 uniformed officers.

Offences under the Criminal Code rose by 6.4 per cent to 72,846 from 67,462 in the 1957-58 fiscal year. Investigations of federal statute infractions, including smuggling and bootlegging, decreased by 6.5 per cent to 54,635 from 58,451 and those under provincial statute increased 4.7 per cent to 150,782 from 144,042.

There were 205,235 charges laid during the year, 95.5 per cent resulting in convictions. This was an increase of 5.1 per cent over the previous year.

The number of juveniles involved in Criminal Code offences rose by 9.9 or 17.2 per cent to 6,324 from 5,395 in 1957-58.

British Columbia and Manitoba had the largest totals, mainly because the juvenile age limit is 18 years compared with 16 for the other provinces.

DRUG ARRESTS INCREASE

Arrests under the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act rose to 715 in the year, an increase of 24.1 per cent over 576 the previous year. Convictions increased by 23.7 per cent to 585 from 473.

The report said the main drug handled by traffickers continued to be heroin and the average price charged by the seller was $5 a capsule.

Acts of violence by radical Doukhobors included 18 bombings, three attempted bombings and two burnings of buildings. Ten took place in the Okanagan Valley, far west of the area in which they have occurred in the past.

'Time Running Out' For Trapped Miners

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP)—The desperate battle to save 18 men trapped deep behind a coal mine fire went into its fourth day today.

There still was no word whether the men were alive or whether they had fallen victim to the deadly fumes.

With each anxious hour, hope gave way to uncertainty. And uncertainty yielded to the dismal reality from mine director Crawford Wilson that "time is running out."

VANCOUVER (CP)—An RCAF plane left here today for Prince George, where it was to pick up another polio case from Burns Lake.

A Mr. Howlett is the 10th paralytic polio case reported in the area since the first of the year.

B.C. Tourist Spending 'Inadequate'

PENTICTON (CP)—Provincial government spending on tourist promotion is "totally inadequate" and might as well be thrown away, president Jack C. Melville of the B.C. Tourist Council said Thursday night.

Mr. Melville told the Board of Trade he got a "tremendous shock" to find the province spent the "infinitesimal amount of only $46,000" on tourist advertising last year.

The amount was less than was spent in the 1954-55 fiscal year, Mr. Melville said, and added that New Brunswick spent $150,000, Alberta $112,000 and Washington State about $350,000.

"There's got to be something done about boosting our tourist industry besides mere talking about it," he said.

The tourist industry affected everyone, not just motels and service stations. Visitor and tourist revenue last year amounted to $110,000,000 in B.C.

IN THE HOUSE

WITH

Norman Cribbens

People are apt to speak disrespectfully of politics. Yet they are nothing worse than a clash of opinion—sometimes a head-on clash—and the men who battle so fiercely across the floor of the House are as decent as any community can produce.

They are, in fact, the chosen representatives of their communities and as such should not be scornfully dismissed as "politicians."

The whole afternoon and evening Thursday was devoted to discussion of estimates for the health department, so Health Minister Eric Martin was on the defensive throughout.

He tangled repeatedly with Gordon Dowding, the loquacious CCF member for Burnaby, and each accused the other of talking too much.

During one of these clashes, Alex. Matthews, committee chairman, asked Mr. Dowding to wait until Mr. Martin had finished speaking. To which Mr. Martin replied: "Don't stop him, Mr. Chairman, he stimulates me!"

Cedric Cox, the second member for Burnaby, tackled the minister about the high price of drugs.

Mr. Martin admitted he was "fed up" with the cost of them, having had to purchase anti-biotics for himself.

"This is just as much a matter of concern to us as it is to you," he declared.

John Squire, the eloquent member for Alberni, then addressed some critical remarks to the health minister, talking to him as if he were on the opposite side of a luncheon table.

"I must ask you to address yourself to the chair," said Alex. Matthews, deputy speaker and committee chairman.

"I thought I was conducting myself in a most gentlemanly manner," answered Mr. Squire.

"You are," said Mr. Matthews in soothing tones, "but you must address yourself to the chair."

Mrs. Lois Haggan (CCF, Grand Forks-Greenwood) refused to be intimidated by the government, the chairman or anyone else.

When interrupted by Mr. Martin, she replied: "I will continue to say what I have to say and will you answer later, please."

Randolph Harding, the stalwart CCF member for Kaslo-Slocan, said his party appreciated what had been done for mental health services in the past two years.

"But," he said, "this would never have been done but for the efforts of this party and the late Ernest Winch, who stood second to none in his fight for the welfare of our people."

Although he is one of the most youthful-looking members of the House, Mr. Harding has been here 15 years, surviving one election after another.

"He is ageless," remarked Attorney-General Robert Bonner. "He must lead a pure life."

Mr. Bonner added that he wished other members of the Opposition were as "constructive and reasonable" as Mr. Harding.

Jury Frees Scott In Fur Wrap Case

An Assize Court jury Thursday took 1½ hours, which included lunch hour, to decide city second-hand store operator William A. Scott was not guilty of possession of a stolen mink cape valued at $895.

Verdict was handed down exactly at 3 p.m. on the third day of the trial before Mr. Justice T. W. Brown whose address to the jury took 75 minutes.

The stole was taken from the HBC Nov. 25 and Jonathan Kirk is currently serving a five-month sentence for the theft.

As soon as he was discharged, Mr. Scott shook hands with senior defence counsel Joseph McKenna and his assistant, R. W. Chard.

Mr. McKenna's address to the jury took about an hour. He claimed nub of the case hinged on whether the accused had knowledge that the fur was in his possession and had been stolen.

Prosecutor Alan Macfarlane had failed to prove this point, he stated in asking acquittal.

Mr. Justice Brown in summation said there was "very little" direct evidence in the case.

Only direct evidence given, he said, was by Clayton Rooney, a store assistant of Scott, who said he had told the accused about the theft after reading it in the Times.

He termed Rooney's evidence "tortured and twisted."

Questioning followed a number of complaints in Victoria, Saanich and Oak Bay that money was being solicited without proper authorization.

Police said there was insufficient evidence to warrant charges.

Vancouver Island Heart Fund chairman G. F. Dunn said there are no individual solicitors; only banks and the local fund headquarters are authorized to take donations.

A number of merchants were "sold" advertisements purporting to be in aid of the heart foundation.

THE PRESIDENT'S AILMENTS

A Portrait of Richard Nixon

(This is the 12th in a series of 18 articles, based on the book "Richard Nixon, a Political and Personal Portrait," by Earl Maza, published by Harper & Brothers, New York.)

By EARL MAZO

Nixon's conduct during the weeks after President Eisenhower's heart attack raised his prestige in the administration. Previously Eisenhower had always spoken well of his deputy, referring to him usually as "a corner" and "a splendid type of the younger men we want in government."

Afterward, Eisenhower declared flatly, "There is no man in the history of America who has had such careful preparation... for carrying out the duties of the presidency."

On Saturday, Sept. 24, 1953, the vice-president and Mrs. Nixon attended the wedding in Washington of a stenographer in his office. They were back home at about 5, and Nixon read in the Washington Evening Star that Eisenhower had an upset stomach. That didn't disturb him, for he remembered that only a year earlier the president also had a slight digestive upset in Denver.

Dramatic News

It had made him uncomfortable, but hadn't prevented him from appearing on a campaign television program. Nixon was musing about this and turning to the editorial page when the telephone rang. It was Jim Hagerty.

"Dick, are you sitting down?" asked the president's press secretary.

"No, what is it?" was the reply.

Slowly, Hagerty said he had bad news. The president had suffered a heart attack. The press would be told about it in a half hour or so.

"My God!" Nixon whispered hoarsely. He caught his breath, then proceeded to tell Hagerty that heart attacks aren't necessarily serious any more, that victims frequently recover completely.

Throughout the night—and for the next two months—Nixon was kept posted on every development in Denver, and every medical bulletin was read to him before being issued publicly.

Signed for President

Within a week a political cauldron was boiling. Nominating conventions were less than a year off. Republican plans had focused on Eisenhower. Now, as he fought for survival under an oxygen tent, everyone was certain there would have to be another candidate, including national chairman Hall, who amazed political experts by insisting otherwise in public.

On Sept. 28, Nixon signed several papers "in behalf of the president." None was of legal significance. At the National Security Council meeting on Thursday it was agreed that Sherman Adams should operate from Denver as boss of the White House staff. The highlight of that first morning of June 8, 1956. The press secretary reached Nixon in his limousine as the vice-president was heading for his office.

Eisenhower was operated upon late that night for ileitis, an abdominal ailment. When he recovered sufficiently to see members of his administration, the President asked that Nixon be the first official visitor.

Unprecedented Pact

Eisenhower's third illness—the stroke of Nov. 25, 1959—resulted in an unprecedented agreement by which the president commissioned the vice-president to assume the powers of acting chief executive should the president ever become incapacitated again.

It had a singular side effect, however, in that Nixon now showed the self-assurance he had acquired since the period of the heart attack two years and two months before.

Eisenhower created the stand-by office of acting president because Congress dabbled on his suggestion that it repair the flaw in the constitution that leaves in doubt a vice-president's constitutional status during a president's disabling illness.

The plan is this: If Eisenhower finds himself unable to perform his duties he will tell Nixon and Nixon will become acting president with the full powers and duties of the office until Eisenhower, himself, determines he is able to resume his responsibilities.

If for some reason Eisenhower is not physically able to tell Nixon to take over, Nixon will do so on his own authority and serve as acting president until Eisenhower decides he can go back to work.

Eisenhower and Nixon are probably closer to each other than any president and vice-president have ever been. The relationship had already passed beyond the "my boy" stage of the 1952 campaign and the early administration months when Eisenhower was angered by a rumor in 1956 that he wanted to dump Nixon as a running mate.

Close as Brother

"Anyone who attempts to drive a wedge of any kind between Dick Nixon and me has just as much chance as if he tried to drive it between my brother and me," he snapped. In turn, Nixon's adulation of his chief—especially in campaigns—is unsurpassed.

The bond between Eisenhower and Nixon has weathered some serious strains and twists. A few of their respective adherents are still irked by slights dating from the 1952 campaign, particularly the "fund" episode.

Some of Nixon's partisans are not unhappy now when the president himself becomes the target for criticism. A close friend of Eisenhower's, who has been one of his constant off-duty companions, rates it as "a grueling relationship, all things considered." But Nixon has "developed more than any fellow you ever saw," he adds. "The president appreciates what a whale of a job Dick has been doing."

'Well-Stuffed Pythons' Neglect World's Needy

WASHINGTON (CP)—Canada's Hugh L. Keenleyside said today that some intellectuals of the under-developed countries seem to be preoccupied mainly with "puerile satisfactions of conspicuous waste."

The former United Nations undersecretary, now chairman of the British Columbia Power Commission, suggested also that while some progress has been made, wealthier countries are working on scientific aid to impoverished regions "with all the energy of a well-stuffed and drowsy python."

In a speech prepared as

Society for International Development, Keenleyside criticized aspects of military leadership and the clergy, saying the Protestant religion suited Britain's industrial revolution because "profit had become a form of piety."

At another point he observed that a large proportion of humanity is still affected by injustice and totalitarian practice "whether Nazi, Fascist, Communist or clerical."

Because of the pressure of work, Keenleyside was unable to attend the two-day meeting and his speech—arguing that present aid to impoverished president of the 1,000-member countries is wholly inadequate was read by a society representative.

"No general plan for a comprehensive attack on the problem of world development, such as was recently proposed to India, in the United Nations General Assembly, is even remotely in prospect," Keenleyside said.

"It is probable that nothing less than a transfer to sane and useful purposes of much of the current expenditure on military budgets, both East and West, will make such an attack feasible."

Keenleyside contrasted the lavishness of some leaders with poverty in their countries.

"The purchase by the head of a state of 50 gold-plated Rolls Royces as gifts for his friends or the expenditure of $25,000 on a single reception by a delegation to the United Nations General Assembly are not necessarily incompatible with gross degradation in the home countries of those responsible for such stupid waste and vulgar extravagance."

In some under-developed countries, a select group of intellectual and scientific persons had divorced itself from the lower strata of society becoming "notoriously uninterested" in the welfare of their countrymen.

Trends showed that among countries "the rich are still getting richer; the only luxury of the poor is procreation."

IN PARLIAMENT

50,000 Indians Eligible to Vote

(From Times News Service)

OTTAWA—Parliament has given approval to bills that will add about 50,000 voters—Canada's Indians—to the lists for the next federal election.

The Commons approved bills Thursday amending the Election Act and the Indian Act to give a federal franchise to all of Canada's 175,000 Indians who are of voting age.

Approval was almost unanimous—Alexis Caron (L-Hull) being the only member to go on record as opposed to the measures. He said the Indians should be asked for approval before their status is changed.

J. W. Pickersgill (L-Bonaville-Twillingate) tried unsuccessfully to introduce amendments to state specifically that other Indian rights would not be changed by approval of the franchise. It was ruled out of order but Citizenship Minister Fairclough repeated assurances that these rights would not be affected.

Erik Nielsen (PC-Yukon), whose constituency takes in a large Indian population, said Indians have to live under the "dictatorship" of the Indian affairs branch, the cabinet and the citizenship minister.

They could not own reservation land, could be moved from the land they occupied on order of the minister without appeal and had to accept the minister's decision concerning construction of reservation roads, schools and hospitals. Thus, their welfare depended almost entirely on the government's discretion.

This was satisfactory as long as the government always acted in their best interests. But if it did not "a great injustice can be done," and the Indian was left without appeal.

Frank Howard (CCF-Skeena), another member with an important Indian population in his riding, hoped there would be cancellation of waivers signed by 122 Indians who gave up their taxation exemption in order to be eligible to vote. They should not be left in this position when the present changes became effective.

Mrs. Fairclough assured members that the waivers would be null as soon as the other Indians were enfranchised.

Rift on New Pension Scheme Denied

Heath Minister Monteith denied that he is at odds with Prime Minister Diefenbaker on early introduction of U.S.-style retirement pensions in Canada.

Paul Martin (L-Exeter East), former Liberal health minister, said in the estimates committee that Mr. Monteith now finds it "convenient" to take the course of indecision and delay in adapting U.S. pensions to Canada, although the prime minister had said in the 1958 election campaign that the broader and more elastic American plan was worthy of study.

Mr. Monteith said the government was giving continuous study to an 800-page report on the subject prepared at the government's request by Robert M. Clark of the University of British Columbia.

"Am I to conclude that the government does not intend to proceed with implementation of this plan," Mr. Martin asked.

"No you are not to conclude that," Mr. Monteith said.

"Then does the government intend to proceed?"

"Not necessarily," Mr. Monteith said. "It is no easy matter to reach a decision on this matter in a hurry."

WILL CHILDREN GO BLIND ON CEREALS?

'We're Not as Well-Fed as Cows'

Human beings are not fed as well as cattle, says Cyril Shelford, Social Credit MLA for Omineca.

"Our cattle are fed a balanced diet and we make tests frequently to see that they are," he said in the legislature. "But there are no such tests for human beings."

He told of watching an experiment where a guinea pig thrived and grew fat on a diet of rolled oats, but got thin on bran flakes.

"What about the thousands of B.C. children eating these cereals?" he asked. "They think they are pretty good when, in fact, the only benefit they get is from the milk poured over the cereal, and perhaps a little sugar."

Mr. Shelford urged that all food packages should be labelled as to their food value.

"Surely human beings are entitled to as much consideration as cattle," he said.

'Faces in a Dusty Picture'

ALBIE DAVIES, the smartest lightweight and junior welter in these parts during his competitive career, cleaned up the attic in his late father's home the other day.

There, among the relics of a dusty past, he found pictures "Bill" Davies had collected from long-distant summertimes.

He showed them to me and briefly I was caught up in the vanished glory of what seemed a golden age. The photographs ran back beyond the time Duke Kahanamoku gave Victoria a new appreciation for the crawl in a swimming meet at the old Elks outdoor pool, below the Gorge Bridge.

One of the group shots, dated 1918, showed the Duke in street clothes with Clarence Lane and Stubby Kruger. With them were Victoria swimming enthusiasts, including the late Archer Martin, one-time Chief Justice of British Columbia.

The Hawaiians carried caskets and guitars—which, until recent years at least, were familiar pieces of impedimenta among swim teams. They stood on the verandah of the old Elks clubhouse where, a year or two later, we danced to gramophone records of "Rose of the Rio Grande" and "Ain't We Got Fun."

Though they were dressed, it took no effort to picture the Walkiki boys as they looked in their green, yellow-trimmed swim suits; slim, copper-skinned bodies gleaming as they cut through the water in record attempts.

You recalled crowds in the bleachers on the bank and favored spectators in canoes, rowboats and launches lining the logged-in enclosure that measured out the swimming course. And you remember days after, when the kids across the Gorge at the "Free" aped the mannerisms and tried to copy the strokes of the visiting world-beaters—"Lookit! I'm the Duke."

You probably recollected that the old swim suits of the day, faded blue and grey, made way for a new crop of green and yellow on the skinny bodies of any kids who hoped to be swimmers and whose parents could afford to buy a new "costume," as the older folk called them.

Later pictures in the Davies collection renewed your memory of other stars who swam and dived at the V.I.A.A. quarters at Curtis Point around 1920.

You picked out the slender figure of Louis "Happy" Keuhn, the Multnomah Club youngster who went from P.N.A. galas here to win the Olympic springboard championship for Portland in the Paris Games of 1920. You recalled him as the slight, shivering boy who found the water and the evening air cold as he displayed championship form from the three-metre plank, diving against Bill Muir, Buck Calder, Archie McKinnon and probably one of the Bidlake brothers.

In the group you picked out Bill and Buck, and felt an old sadness as your mind turned to the 110-foot plunge which broke Bill's back in the worst diving tragedy of Victoria's history.

You saw Audrey Griffin, one of the greatest women swimmers Western Canada ever produced and victor over men in the old Times Through-Victoria swim. You noted her teammates Florrie Gates and Edna Currie. You named half a dozen other visitors, "Blackie" Fadden of the Seattle Crystal Pool; Jack Cody, the durable coach of the Portland club and maker of Olympic performers and U.S. national champions.

You recognized the familiar figures of a young "Gus" McKinnon, Gordie Young, the McRae boys, Jack and George; a kid called "Blondie" Revelli, and two other Victoria youngsters, Ken Darbyshire and Jack Kinsman, privileged to compete in the great galas of those times.

You think of them as heroic days. You murmur lines from Ulysses about drinking delight of battle with your peers far on the ringing plains of windy Troy.

You say such times will never come again. They won't for those who say it, because for them youth's sweet-scented manuscript has closed.

But, years ahead, some dutiful son will clean out his father's attic here and find dusty faces in old frames. He'll identify Flo Chadwick, Marilyn Bell, Cliff Lumsden and local figures around whom legends will grow. He'll develop the Ulysses theme, too, regretting an era through which heroes no longer stride as they did when he was a boy.

Vote Against Exemption MLAs Asked

Victoria members of the legislature Thursday were asked by city council to vote against a government bill which would exempt non-profit housing projects for the aged from city taxation.

Aldermen also asked the surrounding municipalities to request their MLAs to do the same and voted to send a resolution on the subject to this year's Union of B.C. Municipalities convention.

Ald. Arthur Dowell, who brought the matter up, said the provincial government should extend the $50 home-owners grant to each unit in the aged housing projects if it wished to help them.

He said the Greater Victoria municipal councils had opposed the tax exemption proposal because it would mean that persons living on fixed incomes in their own homes would have to share the increased load of taxes on the rest of the ratepayers.

Aldermen rose in silent tribute to three men who died recently: Oak Bay MLA Archie Gibbs, ex-Fire Chief Frank W. Briers and ex-lighting superintendent W. B. McMicking.

Ald. McEwen and Ald. J. L. W. McLean stood alone in a recorded vote as opponents to introduction of a by-law designed to raise retail water rates in the city and Esquimalt up to 50 per cent. It requires final passage and approval of the public utilities commission to take effect.

CITY COUNCIL NOTES

One-Way Street Issue Revived, Report Ordered

City council Thursday instructed its public works committee to study and report on the possibility of early establishment of a one-way street system.

The motion, reviving a frequent issue, was made by Ald. Millard Mooney, who said it was "high time" that the system was introduced. He added that it would eliminate present parking restrictions which draw bitter complaints from merchants.

"I'll go along with a one-way system when we can afford it," said Ald. Elmer McEwen. "But I don't think we can afford $200,000 or $300,000 on an experiment now."

TOO MANY RESTRICTIONS

He said there were too many no-parking restrictions on streets at the present time "which only moves the problem."

Mayor Percy Scurrell also said he sometimes wondered whether or not there were too many restrictions, but council approved a recommendation banning parking from eight different locations.

Ald. Mooney's one-way system motion was passed with little comment.

Aldermen rose in silent tribute to three men who died recently: Oak Bay MLA Archie Gibbs, ex-Fire Chief Frank W. Briers and ex-lighting superintendent W. B. McMicking.

Ald. McEwen and Ald. J. L. W. McLean stood alone in a recorded vote as opponents to introduction of a by-law designed to raise retail water rates in the city and Esquimalt up to 50 per cent. It requires final passage and approval of the public utilities commission to take effect.

Aldermen instructed the city

Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson, chairman of welfare committee, placed on record her "distinct disapproval of such a foolish statement by an MLA" as made recently in the legislature by Social Credit whip Bert Price who criticized social workers as shirkers. She said it was not true of social workers in Victoria.

Ald. McEwen suggested that the city offer the Turkey Head breakwater contractors free rock from its property around the Memorial Arena and the Curling Club. Mayor Percy Scurrell agreed it would be a good way of clearing the property of rock cheaply.

Ontario Cuts Off Fluoridation

Cedric Cox (CCF, Burnaby) told the Legislature Thursday that the province of Ontario has stopped fluoridation of its water supply pending the report of a commission investigating the problem.

"We are observing the situation with considerable interest," Health Minister Eric Martin said.

THE THINGS WE SEE

By ALAN JARVIS

A Suburb of Somewhere Else

TRAVEL is broadening. It can also be depressing. As the New Yorker theatre critic wrote the other day: "... the cultural geography of the world is growing daily more confused. Wherever one looks one sees a suburb of somewhere else."

For three years I have been nurturing a dream that Vancouver is one of the most beautiful cities in the world. (And so it still is, by a large margin.) Then a week or two ago, I returned to it and, as I was driven from the airport (which is a quite interesting temporary building about which I may write later), I began to feel an overwhelming depression. I am in Vancouver, surely, but am I really? Am I not in a suburb of somewhere else? Los Angeles, perhaps. Or Toronto? Or Moncton?

Briefly my spirits rose again to see the British Columbia Electric building, rising above the rest of the city, standing out like a good deed in a naughty world. The following morning I was not just inspired but transported by the beauty of this building—the lights of which are left on all night—against a dawn sky when the saturation of the yellow light of the building exactly matched the saturation of the dawn's early light.

Then, later in the morning I was taken off to the North Shore. A suburb of somewhere else, indeed, but what in heaven's name is this doing here—in Vancouver?

As we climbed the scarred and denuded slopes, I could not help but think that suburbia is still suburbia, even if it slopes at a 45-degree angle.

Watching the rare of trees and landscape at the hands of the speculative builders—in Toronto, Hamilton, Montreal, everywhere in Canada—has become so commonplace an experience that one has almost become numb and inured to it. But, to find one's dream city despoiled, just like all the rest—this hit home with a peculiar poignancy for, somehow, the felling of a Douglas fir seems more iniquitous than a Dutch elm. Or perhaps it is because the scarred landscape which rears up the mountain slopes is so much more obtrusively ugly.

The day after I returned from the West I was privileged to meet the three members of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada who are holding a cross-country inquiry into Canada's residential environment. The meeting was in camera, and I will not, therefore, report on our conversations, but I must go on record as saying that this commission is one of the most important to be convened in Canada since the Massey Commission.

For years the sociologists and town-planners have predicted that our cities would die by suicide while at the same time they have labored in a state of near-panic to prevent it by such devices as plans for "urban renewal." In the meantime the engineers have kept the patients alive by such expedients as expressways and subways. This draining-off of traffic has prevented its toxicity from becoming really lethal, and our cities not only continue to live but they continue to expand. Superficially, our cities look as healthy and robust as an all-Canadian football star: in fact they are sick, sick, sick. In an affluent society who cares? Money—as Sam Goldwyn once remarked—is no expense, and we are one of the biggest countries, geographically, in the world. To Canadians, space is like manna from heaven, and there is plenty more where that came from.

But is this really true? No. In fact, we have begun to pay, in terms of what the sociologists call "social costs"—i.e., the wear and tear on individual human beings' health and happiness, a price which even Canadians cannot afford. Picture the husband who commutes for at least 45 minutes along the expressway, morning and night, to reach his place of work and return from it. Or the suburban housewife, in her terrible social isolation, staring out of her picture window at the neighbors' garbage cans, or staring perhaps at the Edge of Night on television, waiting until the children rush in from school to breathe some fresh and raucous challenge into the sterile atmosphere of ghastly good taste.

A commission on residential environment is a vital necessity, and I pray its recommendations will achieve the greatest possible publicity. The pity is, as they well know, it was set up a million houses too late.

Cloudiness decreased in most sections during the day but will increase again this evening in the south coastal area as a weather system moves up from the southwest. This system is expected to bring some rain to the south coast late tonight and early Saturday morning and will bring some snow to the southern interior as it moves inland over Washington. In northern areas there will be little change in the weather.

'Circus' Charge Upsets Martin

Minister Denies Debt Reduction Tied to Mental Home Staff Cuts

CCF Leader Robert Strachan Thursday used one of Health Minister Eric Martin's annual reports in an effort to prove B.C. mental health services are short-staffed.

Victoria Daily Times 7
FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1960

$293 MILLION PAID OUT BY BCHIS

Since the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service was started on Jan. 1, 1949, it has paid about $293,000,000 toward 3,190,307 hospital accounts.

Of those persons in receipt of hospital insurance benefits, 2,455,813 were in-patients in British Columbia's acute-care public hospitals; 706,761 received benefits as emergency or minor surgery out-patients; 27,733 received benefits after incurring hospital bills outside the province.

At the present time, payments to B.C. hospitals by the service are made at the rate of more than $115,000 daily for patient-care, it was revealed in the 11th annual report of BCHIS tabled in the legislature Thursday.

"DIABOLICAL"

Mr. Martin replied the opposition leader was quoting from the mental services report for the period ending March 31, 1959. Numerous improvements will be contained in the report covering the current year.

"It is diabolical to say money was diverted to debt reduction from this important department. This is where the leader of the opposition is unfair—it shows he doesn't know the problem—the shortage of trained staff."

"You had them and you fired them," said Cedric Cox (CCF-Burnaby). But he withdrew the statement.

Mr. Strachan had recalled that two or three years ago a policy was announced by the government that people leaving civil service posts would not be replaced and an overall 5 per cent staff reduction was sought. Mr. Cox asked why 500 employees of the mental health services had quit last year.

Mr. Martin said they quit for domestic reasons, for marriage or to move away. He said the over-all expenditure for mental health in the last seven years has jumped from $5,000,000 to $12,000,000. His department is doing all possible to attract trained workers, even to sending officials to England.

"MONEY IS THERE"

Mr. Martin admitted various department heads noted a need for more trained staff in the annual report. He said this could not be avoided, "but the position is there and the money is there."

Attorney-General Robert Bonner complained of "irresponsible criticism" of mental health services by the CCF.

He pointed out that the provincial population has increased 45 per cent in the last 10 years and this was bound to increase health service problems.

"We do not resent criticism," he said. "It is part of our democratic system and it is healthy. But we naturally resent suggestions from the Opposition that our welfare services are being wrecked by some kind of diabolical policy."

2 Killed In Brawl

MONTREAL (CP)—Two men were stabbed to death Wednesday night and a woman was in hospital with knife wounds following a brawl in a downtown Montreal rooming house.

PREMIER APPLIES BRAKES

Premier Bennett said Thursday the wrong impression went abroad when he was quoted as saying the proposed Wenner-Gren Railway would lay more than 100 yards of track before the next election.

He said he meant there would be more than 100 yards of railway work underway. His correction was taken to mean there would be more than 100 yards of clearing and grading, but not necessarily the laying of steel by that time.

Yank Star Signs

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Mickey Mantle ended his holdout today and signed with the New York Yankees for an estimated $66,000.

Mantle's signing ended the Yankees' most serious player-salary squabble since the days of Babe Ruth and Joe DiMaggio.

The muscular 28-year-old outfielder thus accepted a cut of about $5,000-$6,000 from his 1959 salary of $72,000. General manager George Weiss originally had asked Mantle to take a much larger salary slash following a mediocre 1959 season.

Mantle made a surprise appearance in the Yankees training camp Thursday after steadfastly maintaining that he would not leave his home in Dallas until his terms were met.

DIDN'T TAKE LONG

He signed today after a 10-minute talk with Weiss.

Mantle's batting average fell to .285 last season; his lowest since he joined the club permanently in 1951. He hit 31 homers and drove in 75 runs, both comparatively low figures for him.

Weiss had been annoyed not because of Mantle's salary demands but by his "attitude." The Yankee boss felt that Mantle should have come to camp much earlier to negotiate his contract.

Instead Mantle stayed away and looked after his bowling alley in Dallas and his motel in Joplin, Mo., until his surprise appearance in camp.

Surrey Battered By Carol's Surge

Mount Douglas High stayed in the running for B.C. high school girls' basketball honors Thursday on the strength of a 15-point outburst by Carol Casillo.

Voted most valuable player in the Victoria league, Carol was the game's outstanding player as the Islanders beat Queen Elizabeth of North Surrey and advanced into the second round.

Mount Newton, only other Victoria entry in the tourney, lost to John Oliver of Vancouver 30-16 and is now playing in the consolation round.

EVCOES PLAY SATURDAY

Victoria Evcoes, senior soccer champions of Vancouver Island, apparently have not suffered from a week's delay in the Province Cup competition.

The hale and hearty Evcoes will tangle with Vancouver Labatts Saturday in the mainland city in a quarter-final match that was called off last week because of the heavy snow.

One advantage of the layoff Evcoes gained will be the return to action of Tim Walker, standout inside right and playmaker.

It will mark his first game since he suffered severe burns in a gas explosion some four weeks ago.

While the league leaders are in Vancouver, the remaining teams will play games scheduled for last weekend. Gorge Hotel meets Canadian Scottish Saturday at Royal Athletic Park. ### Bantams Display Power

If Victoria's All-Star bantam hockey team can keep up their scoring spree for two more games, it's possible they may pocket the Pacific Coast title.

The minors turned on the power Thursday night at Memorial Arena to whip Nanaimo and skate off with the Vancouver Island title at the big end of a 26-9 two-game total goal score.

First of their two remaining games in a similar series against New Westminster starts Sunday night at 10:30 p.m. in Memorial Arena.

Thursday the bantams were led by Dave Woodley who rapped in three goals and counted four assists. Don Wilson also had three goals while Murray Wolfe and Bruce Sanson had two apiece and McAvoy scored one.

Nanaimo goals were scored by M. Wilkins, T. Haugen, G. Chapman and L. McKenzie.

Final game of a two-game total goal pee-wee playoff for the Island crown will be played Saturday at 6 p.m. in Memorial Arena.

Victoria beat the Hub City team 5-4 in the opening game. West Vancouver will play New Westminster on the mainland Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Second Brier Win For Richardsons

P.E.I.'s Upset Helps Reginans To Championship

FORT WILLIAM — The Richardson family rink of Regina today won the Canadian curling championship for a second straight year.

The knockout artists representing Saskatchewan clinched their victory this morning by defeating Nova Scotia 13-5 while upstart Prince Edward Island upset Ontario's Jack Edwards' foursome, 15-11.

The defending champions, who had a bye this afternoon while all other rinks completed the 11th round, finished with a 9-1, won-lost record. Ontario's loss to Prince Edward Island was their second in the week-long playdowns.

B.C. BEATEN

In other morning games today, Quebec's Ted Hunt upset Glen Harper's Duncan rink 7-6, handing the B.C. champions their fourth straight loss; Northern Ontario routed New Brunswick 16-4, and Manitoba beat Newfoundland 11-9.

Edwards, who has been the giant-killer in the competition, was only a half-game behind Richardson, going into today's rounds. He had to win his two remaining games in order to force a playoff for the MacDonald's Brier Tankard.

Stu Boagie of Alberta and Manitoba's Mac Scales also had slim outside chances. Each had 7-2 records and were counting on a second loss to Richardson.

The Regina rink, however, never gave anybody a chance as they scored almost at will against Nova Scotia.

Ontario upset the Richardsons 11-6, edged Manitoba's Scales 10-8 and wound up with an 11-9 verdict over northern Ontario's Don Groom Thursday to threaten Richardsons' reign.

Saskatchewan rebounded from its morning loss to Edwards to defeat Harold Mabey of New Brunswick 9-5 on the eighth round and slaughter John-David Lyon of Newfoundland 21-5 on the night shift.

Groom gave Edwards a battle for five ends when the score was deadlocked 4-4, but Ontario cracked through for two on the sixth, three on the eighth and two more on the 10th for its margin of victory.

THREE FOUR-ENDS

The deadly-accurate Richardson hit for three four-ends, a three, two doubles and two singles for his healthy win over Newfoundland. The first four-ender came on the second end and was due partly to a freak. Lyon, attempting an out-turn on his last rock, picked up some foreign matter on his stone. It stopped before the hogline. The Newfoundlanders never recovered, but it is doubtful whether they could have matched the shots of the Richardsons.

Five Stars Get All Votes

TRAIL (CP) — Five players polled the maximum number of points possible to nail down berths on the Western International Hockey League's six-member all-star team.

They are left wing Pinok McIntyre and centre Hal Jones of Rossland; goalie Seth Martin, defenceman Harry Spith and right wing Cal Hockley, all of Trail Smoke Eaters.

Each received 30 points. Defenceman Shorty Malacko of Nelson earned 28 points to grab the remaining berth.

Rossland netminder Bruno Forlin was voted the league's leading rookie.

Fifth Straight For Royal Roads

Front-running Royal Roads of the Victoria Rugby Union's second division ran their unbeaten 1960 record to five games Wednesday by downing Naval Apprentices 13-6.

An interception by Pettie more and penalty goal by Watson accounted for Apprentices' points.

Wayne Hutchinson's toe accounted for two conversions after tries by Royal Roads' Jim Kozlak and Gary Brown. Ray Lawson scored the remaining cadet points with an unconverted try.

HARPER SAYS:

Misses Costly In Brier Play

By GLEN HARPER
(B.C. Curling Champion)

FORT WILLIAM—Three straight losses Thursday confirmed something I believed in long before the Canadian curling championships got under way here.

There's no room for error.

It's possible to win a big prize in a bonspiel despite an occasional miss. You can't do that here and still hope to win the MacDonald's Brier Tankard.

If anything was to be gained from Thursday's defeats, it has to be Brier experience—something I wish we had before the championships started.

TOUGH LOSS

One of Thursday's losses was a tough 13-ender to Manitoba when Mac Scales had the advantage of last rock. Misses by Harvey Dodge and myself on the 11th enabled Manitoba to "steal" two for the winning margin, although we came back in the 12th to tie the score at 9-9.

In the afternoon, we lost to Northern Ontario when they counted four in the first end before we could get started. It was their first victory in seven games.

We were getting the weight better Thursday but missing the broom too often.

We lost our fifth game to a really hot Prince Edward Island team. The skip and the lead, Doug Cameron and George Dillon, are playing in their third consecutive Brier. They have the experience that we so sadly lack. Both Doug season-and George made some terrific shots against us and they deserved the 10-7 win.

Actually we played our best game Wednesday night against the Richardsons, when we were only one down going home, but again our opponents had the advantage of last rock.

Thursday night, Harvey was pretty well up to form, but Vern Kaspick and Fred Duncan were not as good as they have been in previous games and I missed my full quota of shots, too.

Everybody was anticipating a playoff between Ontario and

Bronco's 100th Goal Fails to Cheer Bruins

By The Canadian Press

The scoreless tie of last night hangs over Boston Garden. Boston Bruins, heroes of some memorable National Hockey League playoff battles during the last decade, are on the verge of beginning the new one with a fifth-place finish. Bruins were held to a 3-3 tie by New York Rangers on Boston ice Thursday night and the result reduced their playoff hopes to something less than a glimmer.

They now are seven points behind fourth-place Detroit Red Wings and eight back of third-place Chicago Black Hawks. Each team has five games left to play and a Chicago win coupled with one more Boston loss would erase Bruins' last mathematical chance of a playoff position. The only discernible bright spot Thursday night was the goal scored by Bronco Horvath. It was the lanky center's first goal in 10 days, his 38th of the season and the 100th of his NHL career.

STILL TRAILS HULL

It gave Horvath sole possession of the league goal-scoring lead but in the total-points race he is still one back of Chicago's Bobby Hull.

Other Boston goals were scored by Horvath's winger Vic Stasiuk—his 26th this season—and rookie Dick Meiser. For New York, Andy Bathgate, Andy Hebenton and defenceman Harry Howell picked up single goals.

Al Rollins was back in Rangers' net after giving way for two games to Jack McCartan, since Ranger officials have apparently decided the United States Olympian will play only in New York.

In consequence, Rangers' defensive play was somewhat looser and the Bruins had a total of 39 shots on Rollins, while Simmons faced 36.

McCartan is expected to be back in goal against Toronto Maple Leafs on Sunday.

TRIUMPH HERALD

IT'S THE NEW EXPERIENCE IN MOTORING!

In the new Triumph Herald we've built a miracle. The Herald is a miracle of inspired styling by world-famous designer Michelotti. It's a miracle of unbelievable comfort, from a driver's seat that adjusts 45 different ways—for leg-room, height, and tilt—to a ride that can't be bettered, because the Herald has independent suspension on all four wheels. It's a miracle of driving ease, with light, sensitive steering that lets you park in a space only inches longer than the car. The Herald is a miracle of safety, with control-tower visibility, impactoscopic steering column, safety crush dash, extra large front brakes; it's a miracle of economy, with normal greasing eliminated for once a year maintenance, and 35-40 m.p.g. # Unemployed Total Hits 5-Year Low at Duncan

(From Duncan Bureau)

Unemployment in February of this year was the lowest for that month since 1955, Cowichan Winter Employment Committee heard Thursday at its final meeting of the season.

Listed as unemployed applicants Feb. 29, 1960, were 813 men and 234 women.

Reports given by members of the committee listed factors contributing to the low figure.

885 DAYS
Reeve D. C. Morton of North Cowichan said his municipality had provided 885 man-days of work during the winter, and at present employs 22 men over the regular strength of the municipal crew.

Trustee George Cooper of Cowichan School District 65 said contracts had either been let or soon would be let for school buildings to cost $345,000.

Lake Cowichan delegates reported a recent sawmill fire had thrown 40 men out of work, but that village works crews had been kept at higher than normal strength through the winter.

CIVIC WORK

Duncan reported work on sidewalks and a city parking lot had provided 115 man-hours of work for eight men.

Two projects discussed for the 1960-61 program were the home renovation fair to be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, and construction and equipping of a model Indian home on the reserve adjacent to Duncan.

SAFETY BELTS FOR EVERYONE

DUNCAN (CP) — A coroner's jury recommended Wednesday all aircraft be equipped with safety belts for the pilot and all passengers.

The jury was investigating an air crash near Maple Bay last Sunday which took the lives of Lloyd Roger Gore and Richard J. Clark, both 25. It found no one to blame in the crash.

Testimony showed the two-seater aircraft contained only one safety belt and mentioned lack of an ambulance and medical help at the crash scene.

MLA ATTACKS COLQUITZ

'Disgraceful, Rat-Infested'

A statement by Cedric Cox (CCF, Burnaby) that Colquitz Mental Hospital is "a disgraceful rat-infested nest" was protested in the legislature Thursday by Health Minister Eric Martin.

Mr. Cox said the inmates of this hospital are "crowded in there like cats and dogs."

"I don't like the member's language," Mr. Martin replied. "It is certainly an old building but it is not as bad as that."

Mr. Cox said the building was constructed in 1913 as a jail and later used as an army camp.

"It was certainly never intended to be a mental hospital," he declared.

SOME LIGHT

Leo Nimsick (CCF, Cranbrook) appealed to the minister to bring some light to the patients at Colquitz so they can "see God's green grass."

He said the windows are 14 or 15 feet from the floor. He asked that they should have eye-level windows.

Mr. Nimsick said the hospital was seriously overcrowded with about 85 men in a room about 85 feet long and 15 feet wide.

LOW COST

Arthur Turner (CCF, Burnaby) said he could not understand why Health Minister Martin was not more concerned about the high windows.

"Windows could be put in at a very low cost," he declared.

Mr. Martin replied he was not satisfied with this condition and "you may be sure this

SOLUTION MONDAY

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe. Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Charles Booker, aged 11, of Palestine, Tex., for his question:

What Is An Ibis?

To our modern world, the ibis is a stork-type bird — a native of near tropical jungles and waterways. To the ancient Egyptians, he was a sacred bird, supposedly the wise secretary to their god Osiris. Many mummified ibis bodies have been found in the old tombs of Egypt.

As a rule, the Egyptians had good reason for treating an animal with such respect. They respected cats because these bold little hunters kept down the rat population — and rats raided the granaries of Egypt. They respected hawks, who are also enemies of rats and mice. Their ibis, however, fed on small fish and crustaceans from the muddy Nile — food which the Egyptians themselves might have eaten. Perhaps he was respected only because he is a large and handsome bird. What's more, he looks rather like a stork and, goodness knows, people the world over have always loved the stork. There is, you know, an outdated theory that storks bring babies.

The so-called sacred ibis of Egypt is a long-legged black and white bird. His long neck and head are bare and black. His plumage is snowy white, overlaid with a few black-lacy tail feathers. The ibis, like the stork, flies with its long neck sticking out in front and its long legs sticking out behind. If it were not for his beak, you might mistake him for a stork. The stork has a straight and sturdy beak. The beak of the ibis is slender and dips in a graceful curve.

Scarlet Most Glamorous

In Florida there is a true stork who is called the wood ibis — which shows how easy it is to confuse the two families. The glossy ibis is a true ibis and he may be found nesting as far north as Utah. He is about the size of a chicken and his black plumage glints with tinges of green or bronze. This bird builds a sloppy nest of grasses in the tall rushes by some stream or river and he is very rare.

The white ibis, big as a heron, nests in the limpid waterways of Florida. This handsome bird is white as a snowdrift, accented with greenish black tips to his wings. By far the most glamorous member of the family is the scarlet ibis of tropical South America. His plumage is brilliant scarlet, accented with blue-black wingtips.

Not so long ago, a colony of thousands of the big red birds was found nesting deep in the jungles of Venezuela. When these birds take to the air, a group of them fly in tight formation. They look like a fiery arrowhead, darting across the blue sky.

The beauty of the ibis does not go to his head. For the most important things on his mind are family chores and duties. Both parents help in building the rather shaggy nest and both take turns incubating the eggs. The babies are helpless balls of down and both parents, naturally, feed and educate them in the ways a proper ibis should behave.

Seven Appeals On Business Tax Before Court

A test case battle is shaping up in the city's efforts to collect a business tax from the grain elevator operation at Ogden Point.

The business tax court of revision meets Monday in City Hall with the Victoria Elevator Company case leading the list of seven appeals.

The city levied a business tax on the elevator company for the first time this year. Amount totals $1,900.

A Vancouver law firm represents the company. It is expected to argue that a fixed assessment agreement with the city limits the amount of all municipal taxation on the business, not just property tax.

The agreement was made in 1928, when the city sold the elevator, and was last renewed in 1952. The business tax was introduced by city council in 1957.

Members of the court are Ald. Arthur Dowell, Ald. Millard Mooney, Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow and Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Debbie Reynolds' friends claim they're sure she'll marry Harry Karl and have her own shoe stores. The same prophets think Glenn Ford will take unto himself a lovely German star, who will soon divorce another. Groucho Marx says the TV industry's full of hypocrisy: It won't take liquor sponsors even late at night "yet it couldn't hurt the sensibilities of anyone except a few fanatics who slipped prohibition over the American public many years ago." Marilyn Monroe, famous for keeping reporters waiting, topped herself. An interviewer in London, phoning her in Hollywood, waited 15 minutes (at $4 a minute) while she powdered her nose so she'd be pretty enough to pick up the receiver.

DEBBIE REYNOLDS ... wedding bells?

Comedian Jack Waldron had the audience roaring when the Lambs Club gave a "Mug Night." Jack said: "The door prize tonight is 400 Lawrence Welk records and a hammer." Describing his Brooklyn childhood, he said: "We were so tough, when the teacher asked 'Who killed Abraham Lincoln?' five kids took the Fifth Amendment. A cat with a tall was a tourist. I became a fighter but quit: I was hit so hard I was counted out while I was still in the air. I'm going to repeat one joke. One of the bus boys wants to hear it again before he goes to Florida for a vacation."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL
Eddie Fisher and Liz Taylor went off salary when the actors' strike shut down MGM's shooting of "Butterfield 8" here and left a crew of 38 jobless. Eddie, after waiting a month, was to have shot his first scene the very day the strike began. (If the strike continues, he'll try to recapture Miami, Pittsburgh, and San Juan singing dates he cancelled so he could appear in the picture). ... A woman customer got so excited about Negro singer Mariah Makeba's voice at the Vanguard, she took off a big diamond ring and gave it to her. ... Ben Blue's reportedly made half a million with his Los Angeles night club and real estate. His stars include Eddie Haney and beautiful singer Doris Lee from St. Louis.

Narrows Closed For Carrier

The First Narrows entrance to Vancouver harbor will be closed to all shipping for one hour when the big U.S. aircraft carrier Coral Sea works her way to her berth March 18. Col. Keith-Dixon, district marine agent here, issued warnings that the 53,000-ton ship is due to pass inbound under the First Narrows bridge at 2:30 p.m.

WARNING REPEATED

An official notice to mariners states: "Due to the size of this vessel and her difficulty in manoeuvring, the First Narrows will be closed to all traffic between 2 and 3 p.m., March 18."

"Mariners are to adhere to the instructions issued by the First Narrows signal station on 1650 kilocycles, or passed to them by one of the patrol boats in the area. In the event of either delayed or early arrival of the Coral Sea, mariners will be informed either by the signal station or one of the harbor master's patrol vessels."

The same warning will apply between 6:45 and 8 a.m. March 21, the day the Coral Sea is to leave after her good-will visit.

The ship is due off Ogden Point to pick up her pilot about 8:30 a.m., March 18.

Tourist Essay, Poster Contest Draws Students

Interest is growing in the junior and senior high school pupils essay and poster contests to mark Tourist Appreciation Week in Victoria May 23-28.

The essay competition offers $35 first prizes each for junior and senior high pupils. Topic for seniors is: "Tourism — A Career Study." Juniors' topic: "What project could be undertaken in this area that would prove most attractive to tourists?" The best poster on any theme associated with tourism in Victoria will be worth $35. Essays and posters must be submitted to Victoria Chamber of Commerce, 816 Wharf, no later than midnight March 31.

'AND THAT WAS ODD' St. Luke's Show Good in Spots

By AUDREY JOHNSON

"And That Was Odd," by Kenneth Horne, Morton, Alice Hutchins, Nurse Jones, May Brooker, Julie Kemp, Peggy Small, Jane Simmons, Blossom Johnston, Frank Kemp, John Dren, Margaret Kemp, Pauline Paulson, Sam Potts, Bob de Castro, Mrs. Simmons, Susan Gibson, Lady Wilson, Pat Seale

Directed by Doris House

An amusing, inconsequential drawing room comedy which opened at St. Luke's Hall, Cedar Hill Cross Road, Thursday night, before a small audience, provided opportunity for several newcomers to the St. Luke's Players.

There was a pleasant arrangement of stage, set and lighting, but a definite need for a tighter, more definitive performance - all round, even from such St. Luke's veterans as Susan Gibson and Blossom Johnston.

A sense of insecurity dominated the evening, relieved principally by a smooth portrayal by Alec Hutchins and a strong, if not well-scaled performance by John Dren.

The confidence and clarity which were needed in general, were typified in the characterization of Pat Seale. This was vigorous, smartly paced, in fact exhibited the only genuine comedy technique of the evening.

Every person in the cast, within the scope of his or her own character, needed the fast light tempo, the clarity and rhythm utilized by Pat Seale. "And That Was Odd" will be repeated tonight and Saturday with curtain at 8:15.

1,127 Needy Helped By Salvation Army

The Salvation Army welfare board helped 1,127 persons, Brig. C. J. Milley disclosed Thursday in his annual report on Army activities during 1959.

In addition, he said, 1,028 persons were interviewed and 268 families provided with groceries. Other necessities were provided to 38 families. On Christmas 318 hampers were distributed.

The Harbor Lights Corps served 20,271 meals and provided 2,685 beds during the year.

SHUT-INS VISITED

The report also showed that the League of Mercy made 11,391 visits to shut-ins, and distributed 12,508 periodicals, including 1,754 items of fruit, candy and cakes at Easter.

The Red Shield campaign last year raised $48,014, the report said. Of this amount, 30 per cent had gone to national service and extension; 26.6 per cent to general maintenance and welfare; 18 per cent to women's social service; 15 per cent to Harbour Light Corps, and the remainder to other services of the Army.

Plans for the new Matson Sunset Lodge to be built this year at a cost of $800,000, were also given.

William R. McIntyre was re-elected chairman of the board for the fourth successive term.

School TV Plan Shelved For 'Lack of Full Support'

Greater Victoria school board has dropped plans for introducing televised lessons this fall, school superintendent John Gough announced Wednesday night.

"In view of the fact that full support for closed circuit TV is lacking, the school board has decided with regret to delete from the 1960 estimates" the $19,500 proposed for the project.

The board originally proposed establishment of a studio and closed circuit system for S. J. Willis Junior High School, as a pilot program.

Municipal officials objected to the program and suggested that it would be too costly to extend to the whole school system. They proposed that the board arrange with CHEK-TV for open circuit broadcast of lessons which could be picked up by all sets.

The original scheme of the school board was based on two years of extensive study and on reports made by two members of the staff who observed how closed circuit TV was being used in the eastern United States," said Mr. Gough.

"The advantages of this method are so great that the school board is not prepared to deviate from its original plan."

VICTORIA JUDGE TO STAY

Victoria can stop worrying about losing its resident Supreme Court judge.

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane, the only Supreme Court judge living here, warned recently there was a move afoot to drop the Victoria resident judge when he retires, and add to the number of judges living in Vancouver.

However, a government "housekeeping" bill submitted to the Legislature this week retains the stipulation that "one of the judges of the court shall reside and usually discharge his duties in the Victoria Judicial District".

A new bill would be required if any alteration of this was contemplated.

Church School Probe Urged By CCF-er

An appeal for an investigation into the standard of teaching at a Burnaby private school was made in the legislature Wednesday by Gordon Dowding (CCF-Burnaby).

Speaking in the education department estimates consideration, he said he referred to the Canadian Temple Collegiate operated by the Church of the More Abundant Life.

He said he understood the school appoints its own teachers who are not required under the provincial department to be qualified.

"This is all very well except for the children involved," said Mr. Dowding. He had no argument with the religion. "But I don't think it is fair to children to wake up 15 years from now and realize they have no certificate to show to employers."

He said he has found that no public authority will go into the school to determine what the standards of education are.

Education Minister Peterson said, "In this province, private schools are private schools in every sense of the word, except if children don't measure up to standards, parents can be prosecuted."

But he added, "The local school district can lay a complaint."

Provincial Exams Denied Near-Genius Girl Student

VANCOUVER (CP) - A Vancouver paper says a 17-year-old girl from adjacent Burnaby, described as a near-genius, "cannot sit for provincial exams because she received little normal education at her private school."

Marilyn Roy, a student at Canadian Temple collegiate in Burnaby, is described by the newspaper as the first student from that school to apply for the provincially-set university entrance examinations at the end of grade 12.

The school is run in conjunction with the Canadian Temple of the More Abundant Life. Its pastor and superintendent of the school is William Wosley, 56, who calls himself "His Grace the Most Reverend Archbishop Monsignor William Franklin Wosley" and is known to his congregation as Archbishop John I of Vancouver.

Dr. H. L. Stein of the College of Education at the University of British Columbia, who said he conducted a test of Miss Roy at the paper's request, found her brilliant. She had an intelligence quotient of 137 - rating her between brilliant and genius.

The paper says teachers who interviewed her at Burnaby Central high school suggested she "would have to re-sit all grade 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

SAYS GREGORY

'Public Defender' Needed

Appointment of a "public defender" who would act for accused persons who could not afford to hire a lawyer was proposed in the legislature Thursday in a bill presented by George Gregory (Lib-Victoria).

The bill proposes that cabinet appoint a public defender in each centre who would be employed full time in the position and must have five years' experience as a practicing lawyer.

The public defender would be able to obtain all the services now enjoyed by Crown prosecutors, at no charge. Paid by the province, he would be available to all charged with offences punishable by jail. He could call in senior counsel when required.

A second bill proposed by Mr. Gregory would make it possible for anyone to sue the province for injuries caused by government employees. At present the government can only be sued with cabinet approval. The new bill would bring the provincial legislation parallel to new federal law.

Ferry Wharf Cost Wasted Says CCFer

A CCF member will suggest in the legislature that if the B.C. government hadn't ordered the wrong type of ferries for the new Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen service, there would have been no need for the new Swartz Bay wharf installation they could have landed at Sidney.

Tony Gargrave (CCF-Mackenzie) has filed a question for the premier asking why the ferry authorities are not using the federal wharf at Sidney, as was at first proposed.

He asks the premier to admit the Sidney wharf provides year-round facility for the Anacortes ferry and he wants to know what the total cost of the Swartz Bay installation will be. Tenders have indicated the overall cost nears $1,000,000.

His last question is, "Would the provision of a ferry designed for double-ended control and propulsion, have enabled the present Sidney wharf to be used?"

Fire Sweeps Three Stores On Burnside

Damage has been estimated at about $5,000 in a fire which late Wednesday hit three stores on Burnside East.

Saanich firemen were on the scene three hours.

Flames broke out in the Burnside Car Radio Exchange, 350 Burnside East, burst the front window, destroyed goods and spread to the adjoining stores, The Salvation Army Thrift Shop and Alexander TV Radio Service in the same building on either side of the radio shop.

Loss was partially covered by insurance in two cases. The Salvation Army carried no insurance on shop contents.

Cause of the blaze was not known.

Surprise proposal by B.C. Electric to city council Thursday, offering a better than two-for-one trade of parkland acreage and $5,200, opened a new chapter in the week-long debate.

BCE Vice-president William C. Mearns said the company would be willing to give the city a 250-acre block of land, with the 125-acre Durrance Lake in its centre, and the money in return for 104 acres sliced off the east corner of Thetis Lake watershed.

He said the company needs the Thetis Lake route for a new high tension power line being planned now in order to meet the power needs of Greater Victoria.

The company originally sought an easement through the Thetis Lake property but a council committee suggested selling the land outright for $5,200.

PROTESTS

This brought a flood of protests from various organizations, led by the Thetis Lake Nature Sanctuary Association. BCE's offer was designed to meet the problem raised by the "sincere" objections of the conservationists, Mr. Mearns said.

Ald. Millard Mooney, parks committee chairman who opposed other aldermen advocating the original sale, said he will visit Durrance Lake this weekend.

Other aldermen also planned to look at the lake and the nature sanctuary association association was to organize a visit for its members Saturday. A joint meeting of public works and parks committees will be held next week to study the proposal and make a recommendation.

CAUTIOUS

So far, most comments have shown cautious favor for the proposal.

Mr. Mearns said the lake will be stocked with fish by the provincial game branch and an existing power line traversing it will be removed within five years.

He said the Durrance Lake property, 1½ miles south of Butchart Gardens, is served by an accessible road and already is a popular camping and recreational area.

NOT BETTER

In contrast, he said, the Thetis Lake strip sought by the company was rarely visited by the public.

Ald. Mooney said the company proposal "sure is a lot better than the old proposal." Mayor Scurrah said the proposal was "very attractive" because the Durrance Lake area would become increasingly valuable as population expanded.

E. H. Lohbrunner, president of the nature sanctuary association, said he thought the proposal had "possibilities" but would have to be studied carefully.

Local Aid Asked In Mental Cases

British Columbia has been "backward and blind" by emphasizing in-patient treatment in mental health services instead of providing community clinics, Gordon Dowding (GCF-Burnaby) said in the House Thursday.

Health Minister Eric Martin, whose estimates were under study, said in reply he'd much rather listen to an expert than a layman on the subject. "I don't think you should talk so much ... you've bored us for half an hour."

The minister added, he presumed the B.C. Mental Health Association was satisfied with the manner the department is conducted. "They haven't complained to me."

But Mr. Dowding said his criticisms were based on problems presented in evidence before the mental health hearings held throughout B.C. last summer for the government by Dr. Matthew Ross, American Psychiatric Association. (His report is expected next summer.)

Mr. Dowding said a PFA analysis of the problem found

3 Here Get UBC Senate Nomination

Three Victorians have been nominated for election to the University of B.C. senate May 31.

They are: J. Stuart Keate, Times publisher, who is a member at present, and newcomers Willard Ireland, provincial archivist, and Mrs. Frank M. Ross, wife of the lieutenant-governor.

Dr. A. E. Grauer has been re-elected chancellor by acclamation for a second three-year term.

The university convocation will elect 15 senate members out of the 31 nominated for the posts.

New nominees from outside Vancouver include the Victorians and Mrs. Theodore Boggs, Ladysmith; C. M. Campbell, Bralorne; Arthur P. Dawe, Okanagan Mission; G. C. Hacker, Abbotsford; Wilfred Jack, Hazelton; John L. Keays, Powell River; and Joseph V. Rogers, Trail.

Blind Girl Fire Heroine 'Doing Duty' as 329 Saved

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —

Blind 17-year-old Theresa Hayes was anxious not to fail in the performance of her duty.

That's why the slim blonde stayed at her braille-equipped switchboard Thursday, risking her life to help save 329 students at the Overbrook School for the Blind when a fire swept the main building. "I thought it was my duty to stay at the switchboard to bring as much help as I could reach to help the nurses rescue the children," she said as she shrugged off acclaim as a heroine.

All students were led to safety, but fireman William Adgie, 44, was killed fighting the blaze. Six other firemen were injured.

SMELLED SMOKE

"I smelled the smoke," explained Theresa, "but it didn't bother me. I thought it was my duty to stay at the switchboard."

"I heard a big bang and the sound of breaking glass and some firemen shouted at me to get away from the switchboard. I had no feeling of danger and stayed there until someone pulled off my headset and drew me from my chair."

IF TB REFUGEES NOT ACCEPTED

MLA Asks Martin to Rebel

Health Minister Eric Martin should threaten to resign if the cabinet won't agree to accept settlement in B.C. of tubercular refugees being brought to this country by the federal government, Tony Gargrave (CCF, Mackenzie) said in the House Thursday.

This action would bring the cabinet "quickly to heel," said Mr. Gargrave.

He was commenting on Premier Bennett's reluctance to accept eight families for settlement here, out of 100 or more being accepted by Canada, under the World Refugee Year observance. The premier said Wednesday it would be different if 1,000 families were involved. B.C. would take its share.

"This government made itself look ridiculous and inhuman. This was a niggardly and inhuman attitude to a most reasonable request.

I urge the minister speak up in cabinet and rap the knuckles of the other members," he said.

Mr. Martin replied: "This is a matter of government policy and between the province and the prime minister. They are in correspondence and it would be out of order for me to comment."

When the matter of settling the families here, each of whom includes a TB victim, the premier said this was only a token gesture and he favored some plan which would bring wider relief to the people of under-privileged areas.

NOT ENOUGH B.C. DENTISTS

Only one in every three people in British Columbia is able to get dental care, Cyril Shelford (SC-Omineca) told the legislature Thursday.

"In some rural areas it is far worse than that," he declared.

Mr. Shelford said he called on a dentist at Burns Lake last July 29 and could not get an appointment until Jan. 9 this year.

BUT ACTION AGAINST PROFITEERING UP TO OTTAWA

All Sides Agree Drugs Too Costly

Both sides of the legislature were agreed Thursday that profits in drug products are too high and federal government action would be welcome.

Gordon Dowding (CCF-Burnaby) said the pharmaceutical industry is profiteering.

Health Minister Eric Martin said: "We don't have the authority to look into it as we'd like to. We have no authority to act."

He said the federal government is looking into the matter.

"I hope they'll come up with something and take the load off the taxpayers' back," the minister added.

"Once I had to consider selling my home because of the high cost of sulph drugs."

CHEMICAL NAME
Mr. Dowding recalled statements by Canadian drug manufacturer Jules R. Gilbert, who said people in Vancouver pay twice what they should when they buy drugs by trade names.

The Burnaby member said the government should purchase drugs by chemical name rather than by brand name. This would reduce mark-ups which in some parts of the U.S. are as high as 1,500 per cent.

He noted the government pays full mark up in its annual purchase of $400,000 worth of tranquilizers. Mr. Martin said the government health service does buy trade name drugs by tender, but at wholesale prices and as cheaply as possible.

They're Off and Running for Strong Finish at University

$250,000 classroom and faculty office building will be ready by November.

A fast start and a fall finish for the first of the new Victoria University buildings on the Lansdowne campus was announced today.

Tenders will be called this weekend on excavation work for the new $250,000 classroom and faculty office building. They will be opened March 23.

The building is the first in a series planned for the period when Victoria University expands from its present enrolment of 1,061 to an expected 5,000 in five years time.

Government architects are now working on detailed plans for the building. Works Minister W. N. Chant said today it was hoped the new building will be completed by November of this year.

By that time, an additional 1,300 students are expected to be enrolled. The building will accommodate that number.

It will contain 21,000 square feet of floor space. There will be eight classrooms, a bookstore and 30 offices for faculty members. It will be located just east of the present Ewing Building.

Of reinforced concrete, the building will be two stories high, decorated with brick panels and mosaics. Classroom rooms will hold seats for 420 students. The bookstore will be 60 feet by 21 feet and a general faculty room 24 feet by 40 feet.

There will also be a smaller faculty room for women.

The government and the university building campaign committee will jointly erect a huge sign on the site as soon as land is broken announcing: "It's Started!"

Government architects are now working on building plans. The minister noted the government has voted the first $500,000 toward the $2,500,000 matching grant promised the university building fund.

Dick Wilson, chairman of the university building fund, said this morning: "We're just delighted with the speed the government has shown on plans for construction. The building was originally planned as a temporary measure, but it was the premier's wish that there be no temporary buildings on the campus."

MONTE ROBERTS

I am not much of a one for following the dictates of high fashion.

In fact, most of the time the only use I have for style is a means of crossing a fence.

But occasionally I get prodded into the sartorial arena through the urgings of My Favorite Wife.

This happened a few days back, when MFW decided I needed a new hat.

Actually, I didn't need a new hat. The one I was wearing was barely five years old, and just beginning to feel comfortable.

However, one does not quarrel with the dictates of one's favorite wife, so I hurried off to the nearest hatter, her final command still echoing in my ears:

"Get," MFW ordered, "the very, very latest."

Upon arriving at the hatter, I said to the young man hatter "One hat, please, seven and three-eighths."

"What kind of a hat do you prefer, sir?" said the young man hatter, with due respect for my age.

"The very latest," I said. "The very, very latest. Whatever is new and all the rage, that is what I want."

"Are you sure?" asked the young man hatter, dubiously. He no doubt thought I was in my second childhood.

"Positive," I said. "I want nothing but the very latest. In fact, I have been ordered by my wife to get nothing but the very, very latest."

"Well, if you say so, sir," said the young man hatter. And he proceeded to produce a hat.

I put the hat on, and it felt very comfortable. Perfect fit. I looked in the mirror, and it looked all right, too.

"Are you sure," I said, "this is the very, very latest?"

"Also-jolly-well-lately," said the young man hatter.

"There is nothing newer. In fact, it is so new it has hardly had time to become all the rage."

"Well, all right," I said, "but you had better put that in writing so I can convince My Favorite Wife."

Which is why I am walking around in a hat which is the twin brother to a hat I wore 25 years ago.

PERCY SCURRAH ... "get cracking"

Early Action On Mall Plan Mayor's Hope

Mayor Percy Scurrah today said he hopes the city "can get cracking" on the proposed View Street mall and car park project soon.

"As soon as the legislation goes through we can get on with it," he said.

He was referring to government-sponsored amendments before the legislature which would permit the city to build the car park over View Street.

The proposed legislation also would enable council to order a "limited area" vote of downtown ratepayers to back the bonds, if it wished, and would give the city power to expropriate private property for the project.

Aldermen have been marking time on the project pending disposition of the legislation.

But Mayor Scurrah said he hoped council could resume its preparations for the downtown improvement plan by its next meeting with passage of the amendments.

WHO'LL HELP FINISH HOME FOR OLD TOM?

Volunteer workers and funds are still needed by the Thetis Park Nature Association to complete a cabin for 82-year-old Tom Francis who lost his dwelling in a fire three weeks ago.

A spokesman for the association said the cabin will be completed next week if sufficient help turns up this weekend to install a water pipe line to a spring. Carpenters and painters are also wanted for work inside the house.

The work bee will be held on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Francis home is situated at 4100 Prospect Lake Road where workers should report.

Donations should be sent to Miss M. Melburn, 2397 Heron.

Voters' List Updating In Full Swing

A complete enumeration of provincial voters is under way in Greater Victoria in anticipation of an election, it was announced today.

Door-to-door canvass is being undertaken in Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt with exception of Esquimalt rural areas, where final decision is still to be reached on necessity of the new listing.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Prof. Tony Emery will speak on "Poetry" at the Douglas Rotary Club meeting Monday at 6 p.m. in Holyrood House.

Winners of the monthly master point awards tournament sponsored by the Alhambra Duplicate Bridge Club were: north-south—Simon-Mariakke and Gordon Rodger; Elizabeth Warren and Les Stewart; Marjorie Crookston and Dick Lipsey; Joe Lukas and Douglas Tuck; east-west—Larry Macmillan and Jack Goldie; Tony Marsh and Otto Leeman; Madge Meachem and Harry Parry; Isabel Artlett and Hildegard Rundquist.

Times sports editor Doug Peden will discuss "Prospects of the Young Man in Professional Sport" at a Gyro Club luncheon-meeting Monday noon in the Empress Hotel.

An unsuccessful attempt was made overnight to blow the safe in Renfrew Bros. Cleaners, 1012 Yates.

The would-be thieves entered the premises by climbing on the roof and removing a pane of glass from a skylight.

Police had no immediate report of anything missing.

The younger section of the junior branch of the Victoria Natural History Society will meet on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Monterey Restaurant parking lot for a field trip to the Prospect Lake Road area.

Record Car Entries At Victoria, Sidney

Californians Lead Visiting Motorists

A record 96,760 cars carrying 301,421 passengers passed through Canadian Customs at Victoria and Sidney last year.

MOTHER MAD

Lost Bike Sale Called 'Theft'

An irate mother whose son turned in a lost bicycle to city police today accused city council of "theft" because it may be auctioned off.

"They have more authority to sell stolen or lost articles than I have," said Mrs. Robert Lees, 1432 Gladstone, "It's theft."

She was referring to a council resolution permitting the police commission to auction off bicycles March 19 held by the police and unclaimed for one year.

FINDERS KEEPERS

Mrs. Lees said that the police should give the bikes to the persons who find them if the owners can't be located.

"That's what's done if you find some money. The principle is the same with bicycles as with other articles," she maintained.

Police Chief John Blackstock said the city's private act requires auctioning of the bicycles. Although the police department pays the expenses of the auction, the proceeds are appropriated by city council as general revenue.

"We just carry out the law, we don't make it," he said. "If people want the law changed, it's up to them to do it."

IN BLACK

Submitting his 39th and final statement, retiring commissioner George I. Warren told the meeting the bureau finished in the black last year. Balance of $15,771.23 was left after disbursements of $98,913.67. Receipts totalled $114,684.90.

Rising printing costs accounted for the single largest expenditure, $25,938.89. Staff salaries and unemployment insurance cost $15,424.56.

Meeting was told the bureau printed nearly 500,000 maps, brochures, car stickers, sightseeing folders and greeting cards.

SECOND BIGGEST

Statistically the bureau's report divulged:

1. That 101,303 persons—second largest number in the last 10 years—sought information at the bureau office.
2. Enquiries from prospective settlers totalled 270—about the same as last year.
3. Californians still regard Victoria as a tourist paradise.

Builder Ready To 'Highball' Ferry Route

Premier Construction Co. Ltd. of Vancouver is pouring machinery here in a flood in readiness for a "highball" start on the Swartz Bay ferry route construction.

Pair Jailed For Theft At Wishing Well

Thomas Holland, 21, of 214 Kingston, and John Burkmar, 18, of Langford, in city police court today each were sentenced to six months definite and 12 months indefinite in the Young Offenders' Unit at Oakalla Prison for breaking entering and theft.

The pair, who earlier had pleaded guilty, broke into the Net Loft Restaurant Sept. 13 and stole $30 from a "wishing well."

LAND CLEARING

Only work being done now is land clearing by Copley Excavating, a subcontractor. When that is completed, and with weather permitting, earth moving machinery now arriving will start on grade work.

Premier has spent the last three years on a Banff-Radium Hot Springs job, and is sending crushers, trucks, shovels, graders, and other equipment from there by rail. At least nine carloads are expected.

Already here are a crusher, shovel and large truck, which started moving to the road site today.

The company will go ahead with work immediately.

MASSIVE diesel-powered shovel weighing 65 tons and valued at $125,000 was moved today by Heaney's from E & N Railway yard to Sidney for Swartz Bay road diversion job: Big load, on two trailers stretching 85 feet, was routed over Tillicum, Carey and Glanford to avoid using Patricia Bay Highway overpass near Saanich No. 1 Fire Hall on Douglas Street. Huge 2½-yard scoop dwarfs worker.

AFTER RENOVATION, B.C. Telephone Co. building here will look like this later this year. All public offices will be on ground floor.

Blending the Old and New

A $205,000 renovation of the B.C. Telephone Co. building here this year was announced today by Eric Mallet, Vancouver Island division commercial manager.

The project will include re-facade of recently completed additions.

The ground floor will provide public entrance and business offices off Blanshard Street, plus space for telephone equipment and sales rooms.

Systems will be installed throughout.

Contractor is Hodgson, King and Marble Ltd., Vancouver, with sub-contracts to be offered in Victoria. The Vancouver firm was chosen because of its extensive experience in renovating old buildings.

Get Ready for Planting—
Buy Your Seed Onions Now

By PENNY SAVER

There's something about the sight of seed onions that convinces me that spring is here! Memories of our recent snowfall and the rain were forgotten as I spied them in a downtown store today. Onions sell at 35 cents a pound. It's wonderful to realize that it's time to think about planting now!

After your first bout of gardening what could be nicer than to come indoors to a cup of delicious rich flavored tea? Especially if it's made with tea imported from Dublin. This world famous tea sells at $1.25 an eight-ounce package but it takes very little to make a satisfying strong brew. Why not try it soon?

Outstanding meat buys this weekend include ready-to-serve hams, priced at 49 cents a pound. Just think of all the extra time such a meal will give you to enjoy your favorite hobby!

Pork makes the most economical buy this week. Fresh picnic sells for 30 cents a pound while pork butts are priced at 49 cents a pound.

If you want to whip up a meal in a hurry perhaps you'd prefer a tray-pack of frying chicken. There's about two pounds in trays that sell for 99 cents. Fresh local boiling fowls make an economical meal too. Birds average about 3 1/2 pounds and sell for 98 cents.

Fresh caught cod is plentiful this weekend. Slices are priced at 35 cents a pound and fillet pieces sell for 45 cents a pound. Whiting fillets sell at 45 cents, too.

Vegetable stores are beginning to look more interesting as spring comes closer. Fresh rhubarb is selling at 29 cents a bunch and large, sweet Tokay grapes are available at two pounds for 45 cents. Crisp lettuce now sell for 19 cents each and ripe red tomatoes are plentiful at 29 cents a pound.

It's hard to resist asparagus that's now appearing at 65 cents a pound and if you want to vary your green vegetable dishes this weekend I'd suggest trying some Swiss chard, priced at 35 cents for two pounds.

For information on any of these items give Penny a ring at EV 2-3131.

Reader Has a 'Problem'
With Sugar in Her Coffee

Q. "I would like to know if you will be good enough to answer this request. Here it is. I make a pot of coffee each morning which holds six cups. I put two tablespoons of sugar in it and drink four cups. Do I get a teaspoon of sugar in every cup?"

Josephine

A. You must be psychic to know how poor I am at arithmetic. You may be playing a little joke on me. However, I will figure it out on the basis of four cups. I think that any other plan would be a waste of your coffee and my brain!

Even I can figure this out. There are three teaspoons in one tablespoon, so, two tablespoons give you six teaspoons. Right? Therefore, divided among four cups of coffee, you would have one-and-a-half teaspoons of sugar in every cup.

Q. "Should one put an astringent under the eyes?"

A. I think that an astringent is too drying to put under the eyes. Apply this to oily portions only.

Q. "I want to solve the problem of dark hairs on my upper lip. I do not want to have them removed by electrolysis. Is it safe to bleach them? What am I to do?"

A. You can bleach the hairs with peroxide or you can remove them temporarily with one of the mild depilatories designed for use on the face. The depilatories have to be repeated as does the bleaching. Electrolysis is the only permanent method of removal.

Q. "Will you please give me the name of a good plastic surgeon near where I live? All my life I have had a physical handicap but I never dreamed that I would ever be able to afford the necessary operation to remedy it. It means the difference between a well-adjusted and happy life and a life of misery. Now that I can afford the plastic surgery I do not know the name of a good one and I do not wish to take the recommendation of just anyone I know."

A. I do not know what your defect is but it must be real since you sound like a well-adjusted and intelligent person. You did not give me your address. Please write to me and include a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request. I will be delighted to give you the names of several well qualified plastic surgeons in your territory.

TODAY'S RECIPE

IRISH SODA BREAD

In Ireland, a round, deliciously moist loaf of Soda Bread is a special treat reserved for such happy occasions as St. Patrick's Day. Filled with raisins and caraway seeds, it's a treat that just the right touch of vinegar, Irish Soda Bread has a marvellous tang all its own. With a generous dab of butter and cups of fragrantly steaming tea, it's truly a little bit of heaven come your way!

Two cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 6 tablespoons shortening, 1/2 cup seedless raisins, 1 tablespoon caraway seeds, 1/2 cup vinegar, 1/2 cup milk. Mix and sift flour, baking soda, salt and sugar. Cut in shortening with 2 knives or pastry blender. Stir in raisins and caraway seeds. Combine vinegar and milk. Add to flour mixture and blend with a fork. Turn into greased 8-inch layer cake pan 1 1/2 inches deep and pat smooth. Bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees, 30 minutes or until done. This recipe may be doubled and baked in a greased 1 1/2-quart casserole for a longer time—about 1 hour.

DEAR ABBY

Advise Him . . . Now!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 29, handsome and makes a lot of money. He owns his own business. We've been married four years (no children) and I am 27.

Last night he got a telephone call (at dinner time) from a young woman who works in his office. She asked if she could come over and talk to him. He said "Yes" and she came. She was very pretty. She said she didn't want to talk in the house. So he asked if I'd excuse them while he took her for a little drive.

He came back (alone) in an hour. He said she had been having trouble with her boyfriend. She had been intimate with him and now he was stalling the marriage. She asked my husband to advise her.

Abby, when he told me this, I got sick inside. What right has she discussing such things with my husband? He says she is a "good kid" but very mixed-up. My intuition tells me she is after my husband. I am so upset I can't think straight. How should I handle this?

SICK INSIDE.

DEAR SICK: Make it plain that you do not want any other woman crying on your husband's shoulder. From what you say this young lady has nerve she hasn't used yet. Tell your husband that he should keep his relationship with his employees on an impersonal basis. Tell him you think this kind of goings-on is a threat to your marriage and you want it nipped in the bud. Your intuition is probably correct. Speak your piece and pull no punches. And close with lots of love and plenty of kisses.

HOUSEHOLD PROBLEMS

Sunshine, Baking Soda
Will Help Scorch Marks

Subscriber who wanted to know how to remove scorch spots from her best tablecloth when her iron got too hot and left a faint mark, has received two answers.

Mrs. E.E. writes in: "To remove scorch marks, sponge with peroxide. Do not press until completely dry."

And over the telephone N.B. offers this suggestion: "Hang the tablecloth out in the air and in as strong sunlight as possible. If the scorch is slight, that should take it out."

Then she added: "I've also rubbed slight scorch marks with dry baking soda and then put the tablecloth out in the sun. I've had good results from both remedies."

Mrs. M. Kirk has been following with interest, recipes given for reader asking for English Shrove pancakes. "These are fine as far as they go," she says. "But the thing that really makes them is the serving. They should be wafer thin, sprinkled with sugar and a little lemon juice. Pancakes should be served hot and rolled—about three turns will do it." Mrs. Kirk says that any Yorkshire batter recipe will do so long as it is mixed to the right consistency. Tossing, too, helps.

And just to keep the records straight, it's the music for Lightning Express that Mr. Pederson was unable to find through this column and NOT the music of "Won't You Come Over to My House." He got the latter some time ago.

Answer Needed for This One

A reader with a charming voice who wishes to be known only as EML, asked us over the telephone: "Could anyone suggest a way to wipe marks from waxed linoleum where my baby has spilled food. Water seems to remove gloss and I have to wax the whole floor over."

Well readers—what are your solutions?

... OR SHALL WE STAY ON THE BEAM!

VANCOUVER (CP) — Highways Minister Gagliardi forecasts British Columbians will drive through plastic tubes suspended from hillsides by brackets in 25 years.
He says the motorists will be guided through the tunnels by "hooking" onto electronic beams. The motorists would drive by pushing a button when he wanted to change direction.
He made his forecasts in a speech to the Vancouver Transportation Club and an interview later.
"The Buck Rogers era is coming to pass," said the minister who recently forecast that Vancouver and Victoria will some day be connected by a plastic undersea motor tunnel.

He said the innovations will provide accident-proof driving conditions.
Ships and planes would also be guided by electronic beams through all sorts of weather conditions.
"Airports are 50 years behind the times as far as safety goes."
He said aircraft should be able to fly automatically, hooked onto electronic beams that would take them to within 100 yards of a runway before the pilot takes over.

SECOND SESSION POSSIBLE

Speed It Up Or Else—PM

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker suggested today the possibility of a second session of Parliament this year unless the Commons speeds up its work.

B.C. Premier Made Alibi Says Green

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Green accused Premier Bennett of British Columbia today of making an alibi for his government's refusal to aid tubercular refugees.

He said in the Commons external affairs committee that Mr. Bennett for many months did not reply to Prime Minister Diefenbaker's letter to all premiers asking provincial co-operation in Canadian acceptance of 100 tubercular refugees and their families from Europe.

"He did nothing to help tubercular refugees," Mr. Green said.

The minister said he had made a speech in Vancouver covering this point. Then Mr. Bennett had written to Mr. Diefenbaker suggesting a Dominion-provincial conference on refugees.

"This was merely an alibi," Mr. Green said, for B.C. taking no part whatever in the scheme. Mr. Bennett hadn't even bothered to reply to the original letter.

8 Firemen Injured In Blaze

PENTICTON (CP)—Eight firemen needed hospital treatment today after battling a stubborn oil and chemical fire that demolished most of the Oliver Chemical Co. plant.

The firemen suffered injuries ranging from a sulphur burn in the eye to suspected poisoning by arsenic fumes.

Wells Oliver, general manager of the company owned by Mayor Charles Oliver, estimated the damages in the Thursday night fire at $25,000.

The 28 volunteer firemen were hampered by choking fumes thrown up by 40 tons of sulphur burning in an inaccessible spot.

New U.S. Radio 'Planet' Gets Clear, Heads for Sun

Orbit Between Earth, Venus

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States launched a new space probe toward an orbit around the sun between the paths of earth and Venus today. Three hours later scientists reported success.

FINAL STAGE TRIGGERED IN ENGLAND

MANCHESTER, England (UPI) — Scientists at the Jodrell Bank radio telescope said today the new U.S. space rocket is "on course toward the sun."

Professor A. C. B. Lovell, director of the station, said a signal from Jodrell Bank had released the third stage of the carrier rocket and later turned off the satellite's radio transmitter to "rest it."

Lovell said this was how the last stage of the rocket was released: a button was pushed here, sending a signal through space which set off an electric current, which melted a bolt, which released a powerful spring, which propelled the 90-pound space vehicle into an independent course.

It was the first time the British telescope, the world's biggest, has been used to trigger-off release mechanism in a space probe.

The beachball-sized package of instruments was launched at 8 a.m. (5 a.m. PST) from the missile test centre at Cape Canaveral, and propelled by the 165,000-pound thrust of a three-stage Thor-Able rocket.

After evaluation of early data radioed back from the 26-inch instrument-packed sphere, scientists of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington said it had achieved sufficient velocity.

This meant the new "planet" had been able to escape the earth's gravitational pull and had entered an orbit that will take it 74,700,000 miles from the sun at its nearest approach.

The 90-pound probe, called Pioneer V, is designed to explore space between Venus and the earth and to test the feasibility of communicating with future manned and unmanned space vehicles at distances up to 50,000,000 miles.

NASA officials announced shortly after 11 a.m. that the probe had been freed from its carrier rocket at a velocity of 24,869 miles an hour, and that this exceeded by 575 miles an hour the speed necessary to place the space messenger in orbit around the sun. It was within 150 miles an hour of the planned velocity.

They said the pathway of the space probe would take it 18,000,000 miles closer to the sun than the orbit of Venus, and that it would reach its closest approach to the sun in its first swing around the sun about five months from today.

Dr. A. L. Jones, director of the tracking station at the Ohio Research Laboratory near here said signals from the U.S. satellite were picked up "loud and clear" this morning by the station.

"By noon, I expect the satellite will be more than 50,000 miles out from earth," he said.

ONLY 10 MINUTES
The plan had been to put the probe within 67,000,000 miles of the sun at its nearest approach.

Announcement that all three stages of the rocket had fired came only 10 minutes after launching.

The 90-foot Thor-Able rose smoothly from its pad.

After about 40 seconds it arched high in the sky and darted in and out of several low-hanging clouds as it streaked toward the southeast.

Cape observers caught a final glimpse of the brilliant exhaust flame 70 seconds after launching.

The launching was scheduled for Thursday but was postponed 24 hours because of fueling difficulties. The count proceeded perfectly today and the rocket lifted off right on schedule.

VAST RANGE
The instruments aboard were designed to relay findings back to earth through a powerful radio transmitter capable of sending signals from 50,000,000 miles in space. This is more than 100 times the range of any previous space messenger—American or Russian—and could pave the way for future probes.

ITINERARY planned for the Pioneer V space shot which is now on way to path between Earth and Venus.

EAST COAST SNOWED IN

Boats Missing In Big Storm

HALIFAX (CP)—Two small Nova Scotia fishing boats with men aboard were missing in the Atlantic today as the Maritimes dug out from a paralyzing wind and snowstorm.

A new storm that just missed the Nova Scotia mainland churned up heavy seas and lowered visibility over the Atlantic south of the Maritimes, hampering the search for the missing fishing boats, unreported since the height of Wednesday's storm which caused two deaths and contributed to at least two others.

One man was washed overboard from a coastal freighter 200 miles off the coast. Another was found dead in his snowbound truck on a highway in Nova Scotia.

A seven-month-old Newfoundland child died en route to hospital after an ambulance was delayed several hours by mountainous drifts. A man was killed when his milk truck skidded and overturned on a highway near Halifax.

Secondary highways remained blocked in many parts of the Maritimes more than 24 hours after the snowfall, which reached two feet in some areas.

More snow was generally about three feet, with drifts up to 35 feet, in four counties hit hard by earlier storms. More snow was in sight.

Helicopters were to search out snowbound families, seek to determine their needs and then drop supplies by parachute. The Red Cross set up emergency headquarters.

THE weather office here forecast more snow and winds up to 40 miles an hour for mainland Nova Scotia.

Main highways between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick were still blocked today. Drifts could be tackled only with the largest equipment.

Newfoundland suffered its second major weather assault in a week. Last weekend up to 14 inches of snow fell across central Newfoundland and between eight and 10 inches were added Thursday. Trains, planes and buses were delayed and highway traffic was at a standstill in many areas.

FINCH'S LONG WAIT
NOW IN SEVENTH DAY

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Waiting, waiting, waiting—the finale theme of the Finch murder trial—wore into a seventh day today with the jury still deliberating the fate of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his mistress.

The biding surgeon and his now plump paramour, Carole Tregoff, are doing their waiting together and under guard in a small anteroom in the new courthouse.

PRINCESS 'EXCUSED DUTY'

9-Week Honeymoon

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret today cleared her social calendar for a nine-week honeymoon.

She cancelled all engagements for 63 days after her marriage May 6 to Antony Armstrong-Jones.

Chopped off Margaret's list were such "duty" dates as an engagement to a church service, a Church of England Abbey and a Girl Scout rally.

Buckingham Palace kept traditional silence about honeymoon travel plans but speculation centred on the West Indies or North America.

"She is known to be fond of the (West Indies) islands and she still has the wardrobe made for her tour there two years ago."

Travel agents are swamped with reservations forwarded from the United States, the Commonwealth countries and most other parts of the world. They forecast the nuptials will draw even larger crowds to London than the Queen's coronation seven years ago.

Juvenile Crime Shows Big Jump

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP reports a rising crime rate in Canada, especially in offences by juveniles, narcotic traffickers, and the radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect in British Columbia.

At the same time the force's annual report tabled in the Commons by Justice Minister Fulton for the year ended last March 31 says the RCMP continues to face a shortage of manpower.

"The force has kept abreast of this rising crime index by advanced training of personnel, by modern methods of crime detection and prevention and by the adoption of new techniques designed to combat the criminal element," the report says.

Strength of the force stood at 7,332 last March 31, including 1,008 non-uniformed civil servants. This was an increase of 31 in the year, including a gain of 271 uniformed officers.

Offences under the Criminal Code rose by 6.4 per cent to 72,846 from 67,462 in the 1957-58 fiscal year; investigations of federal statute infractions, including smuggling and bootlegging, decreased by 6.5 per cent to 54,635 from 58,451 and those under provincial statute increased 4.7 per cent to 150,782 from 144,042.

There were 205,235 charges laid during the year, 95.5 per cent resulting in convictions. This was an increase of 5.1 per cent over the previous year.

The number of juveniles involved in Criminal Code offences rose by 929 or 17.2 per cent to 6,324 from 5,395 in 1957-58. British Columbia and Manitoba had the largest totals, mainly because the juvenile age limit is 18 years compared with 16 for the other provinces.

DRUG ARRESTS INCREASE
Arrests under the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act rose to 715 in the year, an increase of 24.1 per cent over 576 the previous year. Convictions increased by 23.7 per cent to 585 from 473.

The report said the main drug handled by traffickers continued to be heroin and the average price charged by the seller was $5 a capsule.

Acts of violence by radical Doukhobors included 18 bombings, three attempted bombings and two burnings of buildings. Ten took place in the Okanagan Valley, far west of the area in which they have occurred in the past.

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP)—The desperate battle to save 18 men trapped deep behind a coal mine fire went into its fourth day today.

There still was no word whether the men were alive or whether they had fallen victim to the deadly fumes.

With each anxious hour, hope gave way to uncertainty. And uncertainty yielded to the dismal reality from mine director Crawford Wilson that "time is running out."

Our Lord, Amen.

B.C. Tourist Spending 'Inadequate'

PENTICTON (CP)—Provincial government spending on tourist promotion is "totally inadequate" and might as well be thrown away, president Jack C. Melville of the B.C. Tourist Council said Thursday night.

Mr. Melville told the Board of Trade he got a "tremendous shock" to find the province spent the "infinitesimal amount of only $46,000" on tourist advertising last year.

The amount was less than was spent in the 1954-55 fiscal year, Mr. Melville said, and added that New Brunswick spent $150,000, Alberta $112,000 and Washington State about $350,000.

"There's got to be something done about boosting our tourist industry besides merely talking about it," he said.

The tourist industry affected everyone, not just motels and service stations. Visitor and tourist revenue last year amounted to $110,000,000 in B.C.

They're Off and Running for Strong Finish at University

$250,000 classroom and faculty office building will be ready by November.

A fast start and a fall finish for the first of the new Victoria University buildings on the Lansdowne campus was announced today.

Tenders will be called this weekend on excavation work for the new $250,000 classroom and faculty office building. They will be opened March 23.

The building is the first in a series planned for the period when Victoria University expands from its present enrolment of 1,061 to an expected 5,000 in five years' time.

Government architects are now working on detailed plans for the building. Works Minister W. N. Chant said today it was hoped the new building will be completed by November of this year.

By that time, an additional 1,300 students are expected to be enrolled. The building will accommodate that number.

It will contain 21,000 square feet of floor space. There will be eight classrooms, a bookstore and 30 offices for faculty members. It will be located just east of the present Ewing Building.

Of reinforced concrete, the building will be two stories high, decorated with brick panels and mosaics. Classrooms will hold seats for 420 students. The bookstore will be 21 feet high and a general faculty room 24 feet by 40 feet.

There will also be a smaller faculty room for women.

The government and the university building campaign committee will jointly erect a huge sign on the site as soon as land is broken announcing: "It's Started!"

Government architects are now working on building plans. The minister noted the government has voted the first $500,000 toward the $2,500,000 matching grant promised the university building fund.

Dick Wilson, chairman of the university building fund, said this morning: "We're just delighted with the speed the government has shown on plans for construction. The building was originally planned as a temporary measure, but it was the premier's wish that there be no temporary buildings on the campus."

MONTE ROBERTS

I am not much of a one for following the dictates of high fashion.

In fact, most of the time the only use I have for style is a means of crossing a fence.

But occasionally I get prodded into the sartorial arena through the urgings of My Favorite Wife.

This happened a few days back, when MFW decided I needed a new hat.

Actually, I didn't need a new hat. The one I was wearing was barely five years old, and just beginning to feel comfortable.

However, one does not quarrel with the dictates of one's favorite wife, so I hurried off to the nearest hatter, her final command still echoing in my ears:

"Get," MFW ordered, "the very, very latest."

Upon arriving at the hatter, I said to the young man hatter "One hat, please, seven and three-eighths."

"What kind of a hat do you prefer, sir?" said the young man-hatter, with due respect for my age.

"The very latest," I said. "The very, very latest. Whatever is new and all the rage, that is what I want."

"Are you sure?" asked the young man hatter, dubiously. He no doubt thought I was in my second childhood.

"Positive," I said. "I want nothing but the very latest. In fact, I have been ordered by my wife to get nothing but the very, very latest."

"Well, if you say so, sir," said the young man-hatter. And he proceeded to produce a hat.

I put the hat on, and it felt very comfortable. Perfect fit. I looked in the mirror, and it looked all right, too.

"Are you sure," I said, "this is the very, very latest?"

"Also-jolly-well-lately," said the young man hatter.

"There is nothing newer. In fact, it is so new it has hardly had time to become all the rage."

"Well, all right," I said, "but you had better put that in writing so I can convince My Favorite Wife."

Which is why I am walking around in a hat which is the twin brother to a hat I wore 25 years ago.

... "get cracking"

Early Action On Mall Plan Mayor's Hope

Mayor Percy Scurrell today said he hopes the city "can get cracking" on the proposed View Street mall and car park project soon.

"As soon as the legislation goes through we can get on with it."

He was referring to government-sponsored amendments before the legislature which would permit the city to build the car park over View Street.

The proposed legislation also would enable council to order a "limited area" vote of downtown ratepayers to back the bonds, if it wished, and would give the city power to expropriate private property for the project.

Aldermen have been marking time on the project pending disposition of the legislation.

But Mayor Scurrell said he hoped council could resume its preparations for the downtown improvement plan by its next meeting with passage of the amendments.

They'll Give It The College Try In Frostbite Race

There'll be a collegiate flavor to the final "Frostbite" inter-city sailing series this weekend at Royal Victoria Yacht Club's closed course in Cadboro Bay.

A team of University of B.C. students, sailing Penguin class boats, will meet a challenge from University of Washington, assisted by crewmen from the Seattle and Corinthian Yacht Clubs.

Main feature of the weekend will be a team series between Royal Victoria, West Vancouver and Royal Victoria Yacht clubs. Each club has a 12-man team, sailing Davidsons, so a total of 36 boats will start each race.

Third feature of a busy weekend at Cadboro Bay is a series between the Royal Canadian Naval Sailing Association, Esquimalt, and HMCS Discovery, Vancouver's reserve training establishment.

Races will be held Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning.

WHO'LL HELP FINISH HOME FOR OLD TOM

Volunteer workers and funds are still needed by the Thetis Park Nature Association to complete a cabin for 82-year-old Tom Francis who lost his dwelling in a fire three weeks ago.

A spokesman for the association said the cabin will be completed next week if sufficient help turns up this weekend to install a water pipe line to a spring. Carpenters and painters are also wanted for work inside the house.

The work bee will be held on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Francis home is situated at 4100 Prospect Lake Road where workers should report.

Donations should be sent to Miss M. Melburn, 2397 Heron.

Voters' List Updating In Full Swing

A complete enumeration of provincial voters is under way in Greater Victoria in anticipation of an election, it was announced today.

Door-to-door canvass is being undertaken in Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt with exception of Esquimalt rural areas, where final decision is still to be reached on necessity of the new listing.

UP TO DATE

The enumeration is in keeping with a government promise that voters' lists would be brought up to date in areas where population changes are thought to have taken place.

Most urban areas of the province are affected, officials state.

Residents who are in doubt about whether their names are on the list may assure themselves without awaiting a canvasser by phoning the office of district registrar W. H. Ryan. The number is EV 2-6111, local 2609.

Pair Jailed For Theft At Wishing Well

Thomas Holland, 21, of 214 Kingston, and John Burkmar, 18, of Langford, in city police court today each were sentenced to six months definite and 12 months indefinite in the Young Offenders' Unit at Oakalla Prison for breaking entering and theft.

The pair, who earlier had pleaded guilty, broke into the Net Loft Restaurant Sept. 13 and stole $30 from a "wishing well."

Californians Lead Visiting Motorists

A record 96,760 cars carrying 301,421 passengers passed through Canadian Customs at Victoria and Sidney last year.

Second largest number of autos—234,276—in 39 years were transported to Vancouver Island.

California, Washington and Oregon again led the way in number of U.S. cars entering Victoria.

These were the major points of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau's annual report released today to directors and members at the annual meeting in the Empress Hotel.

Submitting his 39th and final statement, retiring commissioner George I. Warren told the meeting the bureau finished in the black last year. Balance of $15,771.23 was left after disbursements of $98,913.67. Receipts totalled $114,684.90.

Rising printing costs accounted for the single largest expenditure, $25,938.89. Staff salaries and unemployment insurance cost $15,421.56.

Meeting was told the bureau printed nearly 500,000 maps, brochures, car stickers, sight-seeing folders and greeting cards.

Second BIGGEST. Statistically the bureau's report divulged:

1. That 101,303 persons—second largest number in the last 10 years—sought information at the bureau office.

2. Enquiries from prospective settlers totalled 270—about the same as last year.

3. Californians still regard Victoria as a tourist paradise.

Police Chief John Blackstock said the city's private act requires auctioning of the bicycles. Although the police department pays the expenses of the auction, the proceeds are appropriated by city council as general revenue.

"We just carry out the law, we don't make it," he said. "If people want the law changed, it's up to them to do it."

Only work being done now is land clearing by Copley Excavating, a subcontractor. When that is completed, and with weather permitting, earth moving machinery now arriving will start on grade work.

Builder Ready To 'Highball' Ferry Route

Premier Construction Co. Ltd. of Vancouver is pouring machinery here in a flood in readiness for a "highball" start on the Swartz Bay ferry road construction.

Ground is still wet, but the day it becomes dry enough to work everything will move into a blitz attack on the two-mile stretch of road designed to avoid the present, narrow, twisting road along the shore of Shoal Harbor.

Premier is prime contractor on the job with a bid of $219,083 for the 2.07 miles of road.

MASSIVE diesel-powered shovel weighing 65 tons and valued at $125,000 was moved today by Heaney's from E & N Railway yard to Sidney for Swartz Bay road diversion job.

... OR SHALL WE STAY ON THE BEAM!

VANCOUVER (CP)—Highways Minister Gagliardi forecasts British Columbians will drive through plastic tubes suspended from hillsides by brackets in 25 years.

He says the motorists will be guided through the tunnels by "hooking" onto electronic beams. The motorist would drive by pushing a button when he wanted to change direction.

He made his forecasts in a speech to the Vancouver Transportation Club and an interview later.

"The Buck Rogers era is coming to pass," said the minister who recently forecast that Vancouver and Victoria will some day be connected by a plastic undersea motor tunnel.

He said the innovations will provide accident-proof driving conditions.

Ships and planes would also be guided by electronic beams through all sorts of weather conditions.

"Airports are 50 years behind the times as far as safety goes."

He said aircraft should be able to fly automatically, hooked onto electronic beams that would take them to within 100 yards of a runway before the pilot takes over.

Juvenile Crime
Shows Big Jump

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP reports a rising crime rate in Canada, especially in offences by juveniles, narcotic traffickers and the radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect in British Columbia.

At the same time the force's annual report tabled in the Commons by Justice Minister Fulton for the year ended last March 31 says the RCMP continues to face a shortage of manpower.

"The force has kept abreast of this rising crime index by advanced training of personnel, by modern methods of crime detection and prevention and by the adoption of new techniques designed to combat the criminal element," the report says.

Strength of the force stood at 7,332 last March 31, including 1,008 non-uniformed civil servants. This was an increase of 6.5 per cent over the 6,885 in the year ended last March 31.

Offences under the Criminal Code rose by 6.4 per cent to 72,846 from 67,462 in the 1957-58 fiscal year; investigations of federal statute infractions, including smuggling and bootlegging, decreased by 6.5 per cent to 54,635 from 58,451 and those under provincial statute increased 4.7 per cent to 150,782 from 144,042.

There were 205,235 charges laid during the year, 95.5 per cent resulting in convictions. This was an increase of 5.1 per cent over the previous year.

The number of juveniles involved in Criminal Code offences rose by 929 or 17.2 per cent to 6,324 from 5,395 in 1957-58. British Columbia and Manitoba had the largest totals, mainly because the juvenile age limit is 18 years compared with 16 for the other provinces.

DRUG ARRESTS INCREASE

Arrests under the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act rose to 715 in the year, an increase of 24.1 per cent over 576 the previous year. Convictions increased by 23.7 per cent to 585 from 473.

The report said the main drug handled by traffickers continued to be heroin and the average price charged by the seller was $5 a capsule.

Acts of violence by radical Doukhobors included 18 bombings, three attempted bombings and two burnings of buildings. Ten took place in the Okanagan Valley, far west of the area in which they have occurred in the past.

SECOND SESSION POSSIBLE

Speed It Up
Or Else—PM

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker suggested today the possibility of a second session of Parliament this year unless the Commons speeds up its work.

Mr. Diefenbaker said in the Commons that the House, which started its current session Jan. 14, is falling behind schedule, and he might have to change his mind on his long-standing aversion to two sessions in one year.

Trade Minister Churchill, government House leader, indicated recently that July 1 is the target date for prorogation.

Mr. Diefenbaker replied to a question from Liberal leader Pearson as to an opportunity for a debate on defence.

The prime minister suggested this would depend on how the legislative program was being advanced.

While he was not criticizing the House, at the rate of progress being made he might have to change his views against two sessions in a year.

This was the 42nd day of the session, he said, and the order paper—the business remaining to be dealt with—did not seem to be diminishing at the usual rate.

Later, Frank Howard (CCF-Skeena) asked Mr. Diefenbaker for an indication of when his proposed bill of rights will be presented to the Commons.

Mr. Diefenbaker said this is always a matter of interest to him but that for some reason little progress is being made in Commons business. The bill of rights is expected to provide one of the session's major debates.

On Wednesday, Mr. Churchill told the House:

"There are 22 items of legislation on the order paper now. We have the legislative program, all the estimates of the 20-odd departments, plus the budget debate, which is a fixed debate according to time. If our target date is July 1, then we have to start making rather good progress on some of these items."

The budget debate he referred to can last eight days. In addition, the Commons requests for 10 days during Easter.

EAST COAST SNOWED IN

Boats Missing
In Big Storm

HALIFAX (CP)—Two small Nova Scotia fishing boats with men aboard were missing in the Atlantic today as the Maritimes dug out from a paralyzing wind and snowstorm.

A new storm that just missed the Nova Scotia mainland churned up heavy seas and lowered visibility over the Atlantic south of the Maritimes, hampering the search for the missing fishing boats, unreported since the height of Wednesday's storm which caused two deaths and contributed to at least two others.

One man was washed overboard from a coastal freighter 200 miles off the coast. Another was found dead in his snowbound truck on a highway in Nova Scotia.

A seven-month-old Newfoundland child died en route to hospital after an ambulance was delayed several hours by mountainous drifts. A man was killed when his milk truck skidded and overturned on a highway near Halifax.

500 FAMILIES MAROONED IN CAROLINA

CHICAGO (AP)—More snow and ice storms swept across sections of the midwest and southern United States today, hitting areas still staggering from crippling violent weather earlier this week.

In the snowbound mountain regions of northwest North Carolina the army, the national guard and the Red Cross joined forces to bring relief to more than 500 marooned families.

Snow depths were generally about three feet, with drifts up to 35 feet, in four counties hit hard by earlier storms. More snow was in sight. Helicopters were to search out snowbound families, seek to determine their needs and then drop supplies by parachute. The Red Cross set up emergency headquarters.

PORT WILLIAM—Ernie Richardson family rink from Regina won its second straight Canadian curling championship today, defeating Nova Scotia 13-3 in the 10th round.

The Richardsons finished with a record of nine wins and one defeat.

Last threat to the Richardsons was removed this morning when the Ontario rink was land, 15-11. (See story-page 8.)

Orbit Between Earth, Venus

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States launched a new space probe toward an orbit around the sun between the paths of earth and Venus today. Three hours later scientists reported success.

The beachball-sized package of instruments was launched at 8 a.m. (5 a.m. PST) from the missile test centre at Cape Canaveral, and propelled by the 165,000-pound thrust of a three-stage Thor Able rocket.

After evaluation of early data radioed back from the 26-inch instrument packed sphere, scientists of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington said it had achieved sufficient velocity.

This meant the new "planet" had been able to escape the earth's gravitational pull and had entered an orbit that will take it 74,700,000 miles from the sun at its nearest approach.

WEIGHS 90 POUNDS

The 90-pound probe, called Pioneer V, is designed to explore space between Venus and the earth and to test the feasibility of communicating with future manned and unmanned space vehicles at distances up to 50,000,000 miles.

NASA officials announced shortly after 11 a.m. that the probe had been freed from its carrier rocket at a velocity of 24,869 miles an hour, and that this exceeded by 375 miles an hour the speed necessary to place the space messenger in orbit around the sun. It was within 150 miles an hour of the planned velocity.

They said the pathway of the space probe would take it 18,000,000 miles closer to the

FINAL STAGE
TRIGGERED IN ENGLAND

MANCHESTER, England (UPI)—Scientists at the Jodrell Bank radio telescope said today the new U.S. space rocket is "on course toward the sun."

Professor A. C. B. Lovell, director of the station, said a signal from Jodrell Bank had released the third stage of the carrier rocket and later turned off the satellite's radio transmitter to "test it."

Lovell said this was how the last stage of the rocket was released: a button was pushed here, sending a signal through space which set off an electric current, which melted a bolt, which released a powerful spring, which propelled the 90-pound space vehicle into an independent course.

It was the first time the British telescope, the world's biggest, has been used to trigger-off release mechanism in a space probe.

8 Firemen
Injured
In Blaze

PENTICTON (CP)—Eight firemen needed hospital treatment today after battling a stubborn oil and chemical fire that demolished most of the Oliver Chemical Co. plant.

The firemen suffered injuries ranging from a sulphur burn in the eye to suspected poisoning by arsenic fumes.

Wells Oliver, general manager of the company owned by Mayor Charles Oliver, estimated the damages in the Thursday night fire at $25,000.

The 28 volunteer firemen were hampered by choking fumes thrown up by 40 tons of sulphur burning in an inaccessible spot.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Waiting, waiting, waiting—the finale theme of the Finch murder trial—wore into a seventh day today with the jury still deliberating the fate of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his mistress.

PRINCESS 'EXCUSED DUTY'

9-Week Honeymoon

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret today cleared her social calendar for a nine-week honeymoon.

She cancelled all engagements for 63 days after her marriage May 6 to Antony Armstrong-Jones.

Chopped off Margaret's list were such duties as appearances at a television play, a Church of England rally, a Girl Scout rally, and a race track.

Buckingham Palace kept traditional silence about honeymoon travel plans but speculation centred on the West Indies or North America.

"She is known to be fond of the (West Indies) islands and she still has the wardrobe made for her tour there two years ago," said a palace spokesman.

Princess Margaret's forthcoming marriage to Antony Armstrong-Jones, a 34-year-old former actor, is expected to be announced on the wedding day.

LONDON READY FOR ANYTHING

LONDON (Reuters)—Hundreds of Britons from the lord's estate are making plans for Princess Margaret's wedding to Antony Armstrong-Jones May 6.

Travel agents are swamped with reservations forwarded from the United States, the Commonwealth countries and most other parts of the world. They forecast the nuptials will draw even larger crowds to London than the Queen's coronation seven years ago.

B.C. Premier Made Alibi Says Green

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Green accused Premier Bennett of British Columbia today of making an alibi for his government's refusal to aid tubercular refugees.
He said in the Commons external affairs committee that Mr. Bennett for many months did not reply to Prime Minister Diefenbaker's letter to all premiers asking provincial co-operation in Canadian acceptance of 100 tubercular refugees and their families from Europe.
"He did nothing to help tubercular refugees," Mr. Green said.
The minister said he had made a speech in Vancouver covering this point. Then Mr. Bennett had written to Mr. Diefenbaker suggesting a Dominion-provincial conference on refugees.
"This was merely an alibi," Mr. Green said, for B.C. taking no part whatever in the scheme. Mr. Bennett hadn't even bothered to reply to the original letter.

IT'S A ROUND TRIP — ALL THE WAY ROUND

VANCOUVER (CP)—Archibald Ross, 57, walked into an airline office here and asked for a ticket to Vancouver, Saturday, stop at San Francisco, Honolulu, Fiji, Sydney, Darwin, Singapore, Bangkok, Calcutta, Karachi, Bahrain, Cairo, Rome, London, New York and San Francisco, and be back here the following Saturday in time for a dinner engagement.
Mr. Ross, a man of private means, did not give any reason for his decision to go around the world in seven days. An official of Qantas Airlines said it is believed it will be the first time a man will go around the world completely on jet aircraft.
Mr. Ross, who lived for a number of years in Victoria, went to Vancouver six months ago. At one time, he wrote a series of articles for The Times on civil defence.

B.C. Tourist Spending 'Inadequate'

PENTICTON (CP)—Provincial government spending on tourist promotion is "totally inadequate" and might as well be thrown away, president Jack C. Melville of the B.C. Tourist Council said Thursday night.
Mr. Melville told the Board of Trade he got a "tremendous shock" to find the province spent the "infinitesimal" amount of only $46,000 on tourist advertising last year.
The amount was less than was spent in the 1954-55 fiscal year, Mr. Melville said, and added that New Brunswick spent $150,000, Alberta $112,000 and Washington State about $350,000.
"There's got to be something done about boosting our tourist industry besides merely talking about it," he said.
The tourist industry affected everyone, not just motels and service stations. Visitor and tourist revenue last year amounted to $110,000,000 in B.C.

'Time Running Out' For Trapped Miners

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP)—The desperate battle to save 18 men trapped deep behind a coal mine fire went into its fourth day today.
There still was no word whether the men were alive or whether they had fallen victim to the deadly fumes.
With each anxious hour, hope gave way to uncertainty. And uncertainty yielded to the dismal reality from mine director Crawford Wilson that "time is running out."

Socred Deplores Deal on Dentures

Dentists are using "deplorable methods" in their efforts to prosecute dental technicians who make dental plates, Cyril Shelford (SC-Omineca) charged in the legislature Thursday.
He said a one-armed man who posed as a poverty-stricken veteran had caught 14 dental technicians in British Columbia.
"The methods used by our dentists are deplorable and ter did not report on the discussion they have lost all public respect," Mr. Shelford declared.
"Two years ago the legislature adopted the Dental Technicians Act and a board of examiners was set up to licence technicians. But nothing was done."
Mr. Shelford was critical of regulations whereby dental technicians cannot make dentures without the supervision of a dentist.

Health Minister Saw Pensioner Dental Delegation

A group of pensioners who sought help in reducing the costs of dentures met for half an hour with Health Minister Eric Martin Monday.
Mr. Martin noted in the legislature Thursday that some newspapers had reported the group were unable to see him.
"I don't blame the newspapers for this, because there was some delay. But representatives of this group did see me and we had a most interesting talk, lasting about half an hour."
Thomas Bradley, representing the Elder Citizens' Association of B.C., asked legislation to enable dental technicians to take impressions and make false teeth. The minister said that because there was some delay, but representatives of this group did see me and we had a most interesting talk, lasting about half an hour.
Health Minister Eric Martin said the Dental Technicians Act was passed in 1958 after a very full inquiry.
CCF leader Robert Strachan said many senior citizens cannot afford the prices now being charged for dentures.
Cedric Cox (CCF-Burnaby) mentioned the case of a dentist who allowed his nurse to clean patients' teeth.
"I will investigate that case if you give me the details," Health Minister Martin replied.

No Move to Change Highway—Gagliardi

SIDNEY — Patricia Bay Highway will stay where it is until the federal government extends runways at Victoria International Airport, Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi said at a public meeting here.
"So far there is no move to change any highway that I know of," he said.
When a member of the audience claimed the new Swartz Bay Highway will cut 15 units from McDonald Park campsite, Mr. Gagliardi said he doubted the loss, but that "we will give you back 50 times in amenities what we take away."

Holdup Killer 10th to Die On Gallows

MONTREAL (CP)—Ernest Cote was hanged early today in Bordeaux jail.
The 37 years of his life, many of them spent behind bars, ended behind bars at 12:08 a.m.
He had been convicted of shooting a bank manager to death during an abortive hold-up at Timiskaming, Que., and the jury did not recommend mercy.
He was the 10th to be killed for murder since the Progressive Conservative government took office in June, 1957. Since then the cabinet had commuted 32 death sentences to life terms in penitentiary. All 11 murderers, whose juries had recommended mercy were spared.
